Hemingway Fellowship Application

Name: _____ UI Student ID: _____

Address: _____

Telephone: _____ Email: _____

To honor the Hemingway legacy in perpetuity, the University of Idaho's College of Letters, Arts and Social Sciences awards an annual fellowship for the outstanding fiction graduate student in the university's Master of Fine Arts in Creative Writing program. The Hemingway Fellowship is intended to allow the recipient to devote substantial time to writing a book-length work of fiction.

The Hemingway Fellowship, started in 2009, is largely supported by a generous donation from Moscow, ID resident, Lynne McCreight. With the further generosity of alumna Suzanne Tarlov and her "Hundred Hundred Club," each year's Hemingway Fellow is able to travel to Boston for the PEN-Hemingway ceremonies.

TA Fellow

- Teaching load: one Engl-292 course
- Two course excusal
- Private office
- Funded travel to PEN-Hemingway awards in Boston
- One-week retreat at PCEI's Artist's Cabin
- $1,000 stipend to use for office equipment, travel, or other writing expenses.

Non-TA Fellow

- $10,000 award, $1,000 which must be used for for office equipment, travel, or other writing expenses
- Private office
- Funded travel to PEN-Hemingway awards in Boston
- One-week retreat at PCEI's Artist's Cabin
- Fellow will not teach Engl 292

Application is due April 19, 2013. Winner will be announced May 1. Turn in application to Molly in the front office.

- Updated CV or resume
- Writing sample (under 20 pages)
- One-page statement that addresses the book-length project you will work on as a Hemingway Fellow. Your statement should also address how you might use the $1,000 stipend attached to the fellowship.