Department of Fish and Wildlife Sciences
75th Anniversary Alumni Seminar Series

Fridays 11:30-12:20pm College of Natural Resources Room 10
Open to All

September 15th – Frances Cassirer - Idaho Fish & Game (MS 1990)
"Wild sheep and pneumonia: the spillover effect"

October 6th – Melanie Murphy – Univ of Wyoming (BS 1998, MS 2001)
"From genes to landscapes - distribution and connectivity of species in a changing world"

October 13th – Jeff Copeland – The Wolverine Foundation (BS 1979, MS 1996)
"Social ethology of the wolverine"

October 20th – Doug Smith – National Park Service (BS 1985)
"The wolves of Yellowstone: The first twenty years"

November 10th – Steve McMullin – Virginia Tech (BS 1978, MS 1979)
"Science, values and the backfire effect: why scientists need a paradigm shift in communication"

"Science delivery and operationalizing conservation in management of federal working lands"

December 1st – Zach Penney - CR Intertribal Fish Commission (PhD 2013)
"Are we asking too much of Columbia Basin salmon?"

December 8th – Jim Fredericks – Idaho Fish and Game (MS 1994)
"The importance and challenges of retaining a population level perspective in managing fish and wildlife"