You or your parents have indicated that one or both of your parents may have extenuating circumstances that could affect their ability to contribute to your education. In order for our office to consider these extenuating circumstances, your parent(s) must submit a letter of appeal specifically explaining the situation along with the Appeal for Recalculation of Parent Contribution (Form #16 on our website).

If you have not updated your 2013-14 FAFSA with filed tax information we will not be able to apply these changes until you do so. Log onto www.fafsa.gov and use the IRS Data matching tool to expedite updating this information.

Situations that may warrant special consideration include but are not limited to:

- Loss of employment and/or a significant decrease in earnings
- Injury or disability which prevented earning usual income or a natural disaster that prevented earning usual income
- Loss of benefits, such as unemployment, social security, child support, welfare, etc.
- Significant medical/dental expenses that will not be covered by insurance
- Significant one-time increase in income was received in 2012 that is not reflective of typical annual income
- Other _____

Your parent's letter of appeal should be specific and address how, when and why their circumstances have changed. You may need to attach appropriate documentation, such as statements from employers, legal documents, etc. You may use the space below or attach a separate, signed letter.
