Idahoans Aren't Getting the Legal Help They Need

Tens of thousands of low to moderate income Idahoans are not getting their legal needs met, according to a University of Idaho report being released today. The study, performed by the College of Law and the Social Science Research Unit, is the first step in identifying needs and working to make improvements. The college and other policy makers will use the results to make decisions regarding how to meet the needs of underserved populations in Idaho. Read more.

University of Idaho Hosts McClure Symposium

The University of Idaho hosted its second McClure Symposium of the year on Friday, June 21. Friday's symposium focused on how federal fiscal issues impact local government. U.S. Sen.

Mike Crapo and U.S. Rep. Mike Simpson will both be participating in the symposium. Read more.

Invasive Snails are Target of UI, USGS Environmental DNA Study

Researchers at the University of Idaho and the U.S. Geological Survey have developed a way to identify New Zealand mudsnail infestations in their earliest stages – using only the small bits of DNA the snails shed in the water. Read more.

UI American Language and Culture Program Receives Accreditation

The University of Idaho's American Language and Culture Program, or ALCP, recently received a five-year accreditation by the Commission of English Language Program Accreditation. The Commission of English Language Program Accreditation is recognized by the U.S. Secretary of Education as a national accrediting agency for English language programs and institutions in the US and around the world. Inspiring Futures Campaign Information

Join the University of Idaho employees and inspire students today through the Faculty and Staff Campaign. Each week until June 30, names of faculty and staff donors in FY13 are automatically entered into a drawing for a prize. Faculty and staff donors understand how participating in the campaign has made a difference in the lives of the university's students. Faculty and staff are encouraged to make a gift today — towards any U-Idaho fund they're passionate about. It is not the dollar amount that is important, but the participation that matters. Faculty and staff may also choose to sign up for payroll deduction or make a onetime gift online here. State employees are now eligible for the Idaho tax credit for their donation. Thank you for all of your hard work this year and please make a gift today.

Today's Register is a publication of the University of Idaho designed to share policy issues, news and events with the campus community. As the primary communication medium for official information, it is delivered to all faculty and staff via e-mail daily during the work week. This publication only prints items of university interest. Events must be sponsored by official university units or organizations. All material is subject to editing according to space, style and policy requirements.
