

TODAY'S REGISTER

Dec. 17 - 23, 2012

To get earlier notices of events, the new calendar can help you. Try it:
www.uidaho.edu/calendar.

NEWS:

--From the Lab to the World: Kali Turner's hands-on experience prepares her for a future studying disease

--Regents Give Go Ahead For New U-Idaho Research Complex

--Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival Honored with Magrath Exemplary Program Award

ANNOUNCEMENTS:

--Discounts Extended to U-Idaho Staff and Faculty for Silver Mountain Resort

--Accepting Applications for 2013-14 Student Arts Fee Grants

--Open Session for Interim Dean Finalists, College of Agricultural and Life Sciences
This Morning

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS/KUDOS:

--Engineering Professor Appointed to USGS/NASA Landsat Science Team

From the Lab to the World: Kali Turner's hands-on experience prepares her for a future studying disease

Kali Turner loves spending time in the lab – and during her years at the University of Idaho, she's worked in three. Turner graduates this winter with a degree in biological sciences, but she will stay in Idaho for a semester to complete her research before heading across the world for even more hands-on experience that she hopes will lead her to a future helping humans fight disease. Read more.

Discounts Extended to U-Idaho Staff and Faculty for Silver Mountain Resort

For many years the U-Idaho Outdoor Program has offered discounted lift tickets to Silver Mountain Resort for students only. This year the Outdoor Program has initiated an extension of discounts to U-Idaho staff and faculty through Silver Mountain Resort's Corporate Discount Program. The program is done online through Sliver's e-commerce site. Go to the Outdoor Programs website at www.uidaho.edu/outdoorprogram and follow the Lift ticket link for discounts and instructions on how to participate.

Accepting Applications for 2013-14 Student Arts Fee Grants

The University Arts Committee is now accepting applications for 2013-14 Student Arts Fee Grants. Applications are due no later than 5 p.m. March 30, 2013. The University of Idaho recognizes the importance of the arts on campus and within the local community. Arts grants are provided to defray costs related to originating, producing and presenting creative projects. Funds may also be used to defray costs associated with educational opportunities in the arts. Available funds are limited, and past awards have averaged $6,500. Students, faculty members and academic units are all eligible for arts grants. Further information and applications are available online at www.uidaho.edu/arts/grants.

Regents Give Go Ahead For New U-Idaho Research Complex

The University of Idaho Board of Regents at its monthly meeting last week in Coeur d'Alene gave the university the go ahead to invest $3.6 million in planning and preparation for the Integrated Research and Innovation Center. Read more.

Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival Honored with Magrath Exemplary Program Award

The University of Idaho Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival was recently honored with a C. Peter Magrath University Community Engagement Exemplary Program Award. Since 2006, the Association of Public and Land-grant Universities (APLU) and the National Outreach Scholarship Conference, with support from the W.K Kellogg Foundation, have partnered to recognize the outreach scholarship and engagement partnerships of four-year public universities. Read more.

Open Session for Interim Dean Finalists, College of Agricultural and Life Sciences This Morning

The search advisory committee for the interim dean, College of Agricultural and Life Sciences is pleased to announce two finalists for the position. The finalists will each give a presentation on their vision for the college during the time of transition. All interested faculty, staff and constituents are encourage to participate in the open sessions or review the recorded sessions that will be available on the website following the final presentations. Read more.

Engineering Professor Appointed to USGS/NASA Landsat Science Team

After a competitive nationwide process, the U.S. Geological Survey (USGS) has named Rick Allen, University of Idaho faculty member of the departments of biological and agricultural engineering and civil engineering, to the National Science Team supporting the new Landsat Data Continuity Mission Satellite, scheduled to launch from Vandenberg Air Force Base in California in February. Read more.

Today's Register is a publication of the University of Idaho designed to share policy issues, news and events with the campus community. As the primary communication medium for official information, it is delivered to all faculty and staff via e-mail daily during the work week. This publication only prints items of university interest. Events must be sponsored by official university units or organizations. All material is subject to editing according to space, style and policy requirements.

Submit calendar items or announcements. View past editions of Today's Register here.

University Communications & Marketing | 208-885-6291 | uinews@uidaho.edu | uidaho.edu/news