PDQ Description Questionnaires Due From Supervisors Nov. 21

Supervisors please remember that all Position Descriptions Questionnaire's must be submitted no later than Nov. 21. We are about halfway through the PDQ period, and Sibson Consulting has received about 20 percent of the completed PDQs. We know that many are currently under review, and we appreciate the attention managers are paying to ensure PDQs are accurate, complete and an adequate representation of the position.

The PDQ can be accessed online at http://www.surveygizmo.com/s3/1030636/University-of-Idaho-br-Position-Description-Questionnaire. To learn more about the Classification Study, visit the HR webpages under Classification and Compensation Study at:

http://www.uidaho.edu/human-resources/classification-and-compensation-study. This site includes the following elements: •An explanation of the study's purpose, •Supervisor tips for reviewing and approving PDQs, •Questions and answers including a section on PDQs, and •A feedback form for additional questions or suggestions.

Taking North Idaho/Spokane Recreation and Tourism International

The distant island of Taiwan commenced visa waiver status Nov. 1. That development will likely reverberate on the shores of Coeur d'Alene Lake and in the streets of Spokane: It is expected to double the number of visits from Taiwan to the U.S. Read more.

Longtime U-Idaho Music Professor Receives National Teaching Award

After dedicating nearly 35 years to teaching and inspiring generations of music students, the University of Idaho's Dan Bukvich is receiving the 2012 U.S. Professor of the Year Award in the state of Idaho. "Winning this award is humbling. Whenever people win these awards, it means a lot of people behind the scenes did a lot of work. So I'm very appreciative of what I'm sure was volumes of work," said Bukvich. Read more.

Orders Accepted for U-Idaho Vandal Brand Meats Holiday Hams

The deadline is Dec. 5 for ordering hams cured the old-fashioned way by the University of Idaho meats students and the College of Agricultural and Life Sciences Block and Bridle Club through Vandal Brand Meats. "Ours are natural hams, old-fashioned cure, with no water added," says Ron Richard, Vandal Brand Meats manager. "The pork legs are trimmed and cured by the students, and then, after curing, they are cooked and smoked at Vandal Meat Lab. Students then help package and sell the hams." Read more.

Staff Supplemental Professional Development Grants Available

Staff Affairs Committee is now seeking applications for the Staff Supplemental Professional Development Grant for Fall 2012 and Spring 2013 professional development opportunities.
