Environmental Science Peep Show

Over 300 Peep dioramas will be on display in the Silver and Gold rooms of the Student Union building on Monday, April 23, between 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. Environmental Science 101 students were assigned the task of creating a diorama to illustrate an environmental theme, featuring marshmallow Peeps as the main characters. Please stop by to see their interpretations of important global issues such as overpopulation, alternative energy, and pollution, to name a few.

Mad Men Mondays

Join the Women's Center for Season 2 of the award-winning TV series Mad Men and engage in critical discussion of the social issues the show poses. Mad Men depicts American society and culture in the 1960s, highlighting cigarette smoking, drinking, sexism, feminism, littering, adultery, homophobia, racism, and anti-semitism. Themes of alienation, social mobility and ruthlessness also underpin the tone of the show. Each episode is approximately 45 minutes long and an informal interactive discussion will follow at 12:30 p.m. in the Womens Center Lounge (Mem Gym 109). Bring your lunch and a friend. For more information, please contact the Women's Center at (208) 885-6616 or email wcenter@uidaho.edu.

Dissertation Defense: Clinton Culp

Clinton Culp, candidate for a doctoral degree in Education, will defend his dissertation on April 23 at 3 p.m. in TLC 028. The title is "The Pedagogy of Moral Reasoning of U.S. Marine Corps Lieutenants While at The Basic School."

Interdisciplinary Climate Change Seminar Spring 2012 Guest Lecture

Mark Friedl from Boston University will present, "Seeing the Forest for the Trees - Observing and Modeling Phenology Across Multiple Scales" April 23 at 3:30 p.m. in TLC 31.

Guitar Ensemble Concert

The Guitar Ensemble Concert will occur April 23 at 7:30 p.m. in Haddock Performance Hall.

Kudos to EnvS Senior Jess Inskeep

Jess Inskeep's poster won second place in the undergraduate interdisciplinary research category at U-Idaho's second annual Innovation Showcase: Research, Scholarship and Vision on Thursday, April 19. The Innovation Showcase is a University-wide competition to highlight the diverse research and artistic and creative activity talents of graduate and undergraduate students through oral presentations and poster displays. Inskeep also won the undergraduate poster competition at the Pacific Branch Entomological Society of America Meeting in March. Another EnvS senior, Tessa Scott, won second place. Inskeep and Scott will present their posters at the National Meeting in November.

President Invites Faculty And Staff To Historic Event Wednesday

Your insight and skills are essential to the success of our University every day in education, research, outreach, engagement, and administration. It's also true in investing for the future in the capital campaign – Inspiring Futures -- that launches this week. The single most important thing we can do is to ensure you – the people others see as the University of Idaho – know what's at stake. That's why we've planned an event for you tomorrow (April 25) before we hold the formal launch this weekend. This event will be a celebration of your work as a community – now and through the 21st Century. We're seeking to get others to invest in what you're already investing in – students, quality education, research, outreach, and more. However, it's not an effort to tap your wallets. This is about sharing successes. I'm encouraging all current and retired faculty and staff to join us as we celebrate OUR University and its many successes Wednesday, April 25 (3:30 – 5 PST, 4:30 – p.m. MST). Faculty and staff release time is granted, but classes are not canceled. The event celebrates OUR University and its many successes as Idaho's 21st Century land-grant institution. Join us at one of these locations: SUB Ballroom, Moscow; Harbor Center, Coeur d'Alene; TAB 350a, Idaho Falls; and Seminar Room, 448a, Boise. ,Hosted hors d'oeuvres and beverages will be served. There will also be give-aways and door prizes. Please RSVP here. (If you have questions, please contact Meghann Kolb at (208) 885-5205 or meghannk@uidaho.edu.) If you are not at the main campus or centers, you can join us online.

A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum

The University of Idaho Department of Theatre Arts presents the musical comedy "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum," written in 1962 by Burt Shevelove and Larry Gelbart with music by Tony Award-winning composer Stephen Sondheim. One of Broadway's greatest musical farces, "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" takes comedy back to its roots, combining situations from time-tested, 2000-year-old comedies of Roman playwright Plautus with the infectious energy of classic vaudeville. When Pseudolus, a wily, lazy, cheating slave, discovers his master's son is in love with the girl next door — a courtesan — he promises to help win her heart in exchange for his freedom. Satire, puns and cases of mistaken identity abound as Pseudolus concocts a plan so outrageous the whole neighborhood ends up playing a part — whether they know it or not. General admission $10. Admission is free for U-ldaho students. Tickets are $8 for WSU students and U-ldaho faculty and staff.

Voice Studio Recital, Ferrill

Voice Studio Recital of Kyle Ferrill, will occur April 26 at 7:30 p.m. in Haddock Performance Hall.
