City of Moscow, U-Idaho Begin Intermodal Transit Center Construction

The University of Idaho and the City of Moscow are joining forces to break ground on a new intermodal transit center. Located on the University of Idaho campus at the intersection of Sweet Ave. and Railroad Ave. in Moscow, the intermodal transit center will serve as a link between transportation service providers across the Palouse. Since fixed route service began in Moscow in early 2004, ridership has increased by more than 400 percent, with average annual increases of 20 percent. It is estimated that over 70 percent of riders are university students, faculty or staff. Currently, routes are near capacity during peak service periods. Read more.

Brad White Appointed as Director of Internal Audit

The University of Idaho has appointed Brad White as director of internal audit. He takes up the post on June 1. As the director of internal audit, White will be responsible for providing leadership for Auditing Services and is responsible for managing a proactive, collaborative strategy for internal audit practices. "I'm excited about being able to bring in such a qualified auditor," said M. Duane Nellis, University of Idaho president. "I take very seriously the importance of checks and balances in our operations in order to provide the best service at the lowest cost." White has served in multiple roles within the Washington Office of State Auditor over the last 17 years. His responsibilities included auditing, project management, audit management, and whistleblower investigations from offices in Olympia and Pullman. For the last eight years, he has served in Pullman as the Federal Single Audit Coordinator with responsibility for oversight of state offices, higher education, and local government. White holds a Bachelor's in Accounting from the University of Wyoming and a Master of Accountancy from Weber State University.

ITS Announces Network Outage From 8 To 10 p.m. Tonight

Most university computing services, including university email, Banner, websites and all internet access will be unavailable between 8 and 10 p.m. tonight. Servers will remain operating, but there will be no network connectivity throughout the campus.
