
HUMAN RESOURCE TASK FORCE ON CLASSIFICATION & COMPENSATION

Seven members across the University of Idaho have been named to serve on a task force to review the University of Idaho's classification and compensation practices and to provide recommendations.

The University of Idaho engaged the Sibson consulting firm and recruited a number of individuals from within the University to bring their perspectives to the task force and to provide transparency with a University-wide perspective.

Human Resources, under the executive leadership of Greg Walters are providing the overall direction of the project. The task force is chaired by Suzette Yaezenko, Director of Employment Services.
