8. Last 26 Semester Credits In Residence Y N

You must complete six semesters or their equivalent “in residence”(engaged in the fulltime study of law) at a law school on the approved list of the American Bar Association. The “semesters in residence” graduation requirement is not related in any way to the establishment of Idaho state residency.

In addition, you must take the last two semesters and the last 26 credits at the College of Law, unless the Dean of Students waives this requirement for good cause.

For spring and fall semesters, “in residence” means that you are enrolled for at least 10 credit hours during the semester, and that you pass at least nine of those hours. For summer session, you must be enrolled for five or more credits to receive credit for 1/2 semester in residence.

If you are enrolled for fewer than 10 credits during fall or spring semesters, you will receive residence credit in the ratio that the hours for which you are enrolled bear to 10. If you fail to pass at least nine credit hours, you will receive residence credit in the ratio that the hours passed bear to nine. In the event that both ratios apply to a given case, the lower ratio controls.

The College faculty may specify that specific courses do not satisfy all or part of a semester” in residence” requirement. If the faculty decides that a course does not satisfy the “in residence” requirement, that fact will be prominently noted in the Law Student Handbook (for permanently numbered courses) or in official communications from the College administration (for one-time special seminars and courses). Please note that credits earned in the Northwest Institute for Dispute Resolution do not count toward credits in residence.
