Welcome
TO THE FESTIVAL AT THE UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO!

With great pleasure, Mary Beth and I welcome you to the Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival. Now in its 48th year, this signature event is a treasure for the university, the state and beyond. I attended my first festival last year, and I was thrilled to witness the unique combination of artistic endeavor and education, a dynamic program epitomizing and befitting our Vandal legacy of leadership and innovation. Mary Beth missed the festival last year, so we look forward to enjoying it together this year.

The multifaceted celebration of culture and learning earned the Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival the National Medal of the Arts, the first time the nation’s top arts honor has been bestowed on a public university. The festival has also earned the university the Peter McGrath Community Engagement Exemplary Program Award, recognizing institutions that become more involved with their communities through innovative learning, discovery and engagement. In 2014, the Jazz in Schools program, a key piece of the festival, brought the transformative experience of jazz music to 37 area schools and 5,482 students.

Lionel Hampton left an indelible legacy. His music reached millions, but he also transcended music as a member of one of the first integrated jazz bands, as an early supporter of the South African leader Nelson Mandela, and as a citizen committed to the uplift of all people and the realization of a better world. What a privilege it is for our university to be such a large part of his lasting heritage, a reminder of the power of art and culture to foster positive change in our world.

This year’s theme, “The Spirit of Harmony,” resonates with that community-building spirit. We welcome to Moscow talented artists such as Dianne Reeves, in her 10th performance at the festival; Airmen of Note, the premier jazz ensemble of the U.S. Air Force; emerging star Bria Skonberg; saxophonist and composer Christine Jensen; saxophone and voice prodigy Grace Kelly; and many, many more leading lights of jazz. Our own acclaimed faculty, including Vern Sielert and Dan Bukvich, will lead the University of Idaho Jazz Band and Jazz Choir, respectively.

The success of this year’s festival, like those before it, is testament to the hard work of dedicated and dynamic people. Among the many talented staff making this festival possible is artistic director John Clayton, himself a Grammy-winning musician and a driving force as always. Of course, the 400 faculty, staff, students and community members who volunteer each year work tirelessly behind the scenes. And generous donors make it all possible.

Enjoy the festival and all it means – performance, learning and community spirit.

Sincerely,

Chuck Staben
President

Dear Friends and Music Lovers,

It is great to have you be a part of our 48th Annual University of Idaho Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival. Every year, I refer to our gathering as a celebration. We will spend the entire four days of the festival celebrating music, education and this fantastic community we’re all a part of. As always, the festival has been a year in the making and our staff has worked throughout to make this memorable for you.

We’ll start our evening performances with a huge bang. Wednesday’s concert will feature Vern Sielert conducting our Lionel Hampton School of Music Jazz Band 1 with some very special guests: Vibraphone wizard, Stefon Harris; the dynamic tenor sax playing of Jeff Coffin; and a return visit from the young alto saxophone voice, Grace Kelly. Our guests will also perform with the festival All-Star Quartet of Josh Nelson, Katie Thiroux, Kevin Kanner and Graham Dechter. I’m excited already and we’ve got three more nights to go!

As you go from venue to venue on Thursday, or just find the one you want to spend the evening in, I have no doubt that you’ll discover talent that will thrill you. Holly Hofmann will lead Flutology (three jazz flutes!). We’ll have The Airmen of Note perform with Stefon Harris as their featured guest. Trumpeter/vocalist Bria Skonberg will team up with Jeff Coffin for a lesson in artistic energy. Get ready for some jazzy, bluesy New Orleans tinged fun with Meschiya Lake and Dem Little Big Horns.

Some world-renowned women take charge of Friday night. First, sisters Ingrid and Christine Jensen will bring their trumpet and alto sax sounds to the stage. Their compositions and arrangements are involved, interesting and highly musical. Next, Ms. Dianne Reeves will engage and impress us as only she can. Once you hear her, you’ll understand why the entire jazz community has such a high regard for her mastery. Her singing is stunningly beautiful.

Saturday night gives special meaning to the word “celebration!” The Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival Big Band will play a few of the favorites that were hits for Hamp. Joining them, the evening soloists will be Dianne Reeves, Stefon Harris, Ernie Andrews, Wycliffe Gordon, Tia Fuller, Ken Peplowski, and Rickey Woodard.

With such a list of expert musicians, you can see why this will be a night to remember!

Of course, the reason these masters of jazz are coming to the Palouse is so that the 5,000 student performers and community members can have the opportunity to meet, learn from, and listen to these exceptional artists in an intimate, educational environment. They actually love coming here!

It is this Spirit of Harmony – our theme this year – that brings us all together as one community in celebration of this wonderful, powerful music. The local residents, the University of Idaho faculty and staff, the students, their parents and friends, and the music lovers from far and wide all come together to experience Lionel Hampton’s spirit and magic. Through performances, workshops, creating, researching and archiving this music and the richness surrounding it, Hamp – and “Doc” Skinner – have created a Spirit of Harmony for the ages.

Thank you for joining us as we celebrate this American art form, Jazz!

Your fan,

John Clayton

Welcome to the 2015 WORKSHOPS

Workshop Themes and Schedules

Designed to entertain, inspire, educate and inform, the 2015 workshops feature artists and educators from around the globe. Workshops are themed to help you focus on your educational goals while attending the festival. Many workshops provide handouts and the chance to play and sing with artists and educators. Please note: schedules are subject to change. Any changes will be indicated on the door of the workshop venues.

WORKSHOP THEMES

Artist Features (AF): Come and see your favorite artists up close and personal. Listen while they play, sing, and share stories. Most allow audience questions, and sometimes students are invited on-stage to play with the world’s finest.

Director Helps (DH): These workshops are designed to help directors teach jazz. Directing workshops include: rehearsal techniques, elementary jazz curriculum, teaching improvisation, directing a jazz ensemble, and more!

Master Classes (MC): These are workshops designed for specific instruments. Learn about fingering, tone, and technique from master teachers.

Interdisciplinary/Historical (IH): These workshops explore opportunities for cross-campus collaborations, and draws from the past to help shape the future.

Hands On! (HO): This means INTERACTIVE! Bring your instrument and charts, and be ready to play and sing along. Be prepared to learn about improvisation, scat singing, and improving techniques.

Dance Workshops (DW): Join the fun in a variety of “hands-and-feet-on” workshops led by university faculty, regional instructors, and specialty dance instructors. Our swing and Latin dance classes will get you ready for the dance floor at the Saturday night concert, so grab your dancing shoes!

Thinking About College? (TAC): The University of Idaho encourages visiting students, especially those high school students wondering about their higher education, to explore the campus by taking a campus tour or attending a workshop taught by university faculty.

The International Jazz Collections

The International Jazz Collections of the University of Idaho Library was established in 1992 with the donation of historical materials from jazz legend Lionel Hampton. The Collections are a growing repository dedicated to the preservation, promotion, and study of one of the world’s great art forms.

Now the primary historical jazz archive in the Pacific Northwest, the Collections include the papers of vibraphonist Lionel Hampton, jazz critic Leonard Feather, and trombonist Al Grey, as well as items from the collections of vocalist Joe Williams, trumpeters Dizzy Gillespie, Doc Cheatham, Conte Candoli, and Pete Candoli, pianist Jane Jarvis, bassist Ray Brown, saxophonist Buddy Tate, along with the digitized scores of Gerry Mulligan. The Collections also serve as the official archive of the Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival.

Access to the “International Jazz Collections-IJC” finding aids is through the University of Idaho Library catalog. More information is available by calling (208) 885-0845 or emailing libspec@uidaho.edu. Hours are 9:00 am to 4:00 pm Monday through Friday during the academic year, limited hours during the summer.

Northwest Public Radio proudly presents “The Jazz Gem of the Palouse”

ON-AIR OR ONLINE AT NWPR.ORG Northwest Public Radio is a community service of The Edward R. Murrow College of Communication at Washington State University
The University of Idaho is a leading research university in the West and nation, and a first choice for aspiring leaders around the world. In fact, Newsweek magazine placed Idaho in its 2012 national edition of “Best Colleges for You.” With globally competitive learning opportunities in a student-centered environment and remarkable outdoor surroundings, it's easy to see why. Our alumni are leaders worldwide in business, public service, science, the arts and more.

At the University of Idaho, students don’t just learn about what's happening in the world, they get out into the world to make things happen. Students volunteer 150,000 hours annually to service projects like building orphanages in Peru, revitalizing rural towns, or developing online learning tools for children in Taiwan. These efforts helped earn the University of Idaho a spot on the U.S. President’s Higher Education Community Service Honor Roll, the highest federal recognition for community service and engagement.

UI students come from all 50 states, 86 countries, The District of Columbia, American Samoa, Guam, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands. Enrollment is currently 11,534, including 1,060 students taking classes at the UI Centers off the Moscow campus.

Daily Campus Tour

While on campus for the Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival, take a tour of campus. Hear it straight from current students on this casual, student-focused tour of the residential campus — a campus designed by the same landscape architect firm that designed New York’s Central Park, Notre Dame, Stanford and the Capitol Grounds in Washington, D.C. And, if you take a tour, you’ll receive an official Jazz Festival button. Please sign up ahead of time. Tours are offered at 10:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. and begin on the first floor of the Bruce M. Pitman Center Campus Visit office, lasting for about ninety minutes.

After Hours Performances

Part of the Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival’s commitment to community includes strengthening the involvement of the local businesses in the festival, providing opportunities for local players to interact with visiting festival musicians, and offering “after festival hours” performance venues where the music can continue past regular concert hours. Towards that end, in 2009, the festival began coordinating duos, trios and quartets to play in Moscow-area restaurants, cafes and clubs.

This year, we’re proud to encourage those of the appropriate age and disposition (no sleepy heads!) to attend the many After Hours jam sessions at one or more of the following locations:

Now in its 48th year, the Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival keeps the magic, music and spirit of jazz alive for generations to come by inspiring students, teachers and artists of all ages and abilities to excel in their appreciation, understanding and performance of jazz.

Throughout its history, the Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival has been dedicated to enhancing musical opportunities and educational experiences for young artists. It strives to connect students to some of the best jazz musicians and educators in the world today through evaluated student performances, artist and educator workshops and clinics, the Jazz in the Schools program and world-class evening concerts.

As a National Medal of Arts recipient the Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival is following in some very big footsteps—including those of Lionel Hampton who was awarded the medal in 1996. The National Medal of Arts, the nation’s most prestigious arts award, was presented to the festival in November 2007 by President George W. Bush. The University of Idaho is the first public university to receive the award since it was created by Congress in 1984.

The first University of Idaho Jazz Festival took place in 1967 with a dozen student groups and one guest artist. The festival continued to grow from there, erupting onto the national stage in 1981 when students and spectators packed in to hear Ella Fitzgerald.

In 1984, the festival’s most important relationship took shape when Lionel Hampton joined the excitement in Moscow. Inspired by the enthusiasm of the students, Hamp pledged his support to the festival. This was the beginning of a longstanding partnership between Hampton, Emeritus Executive Director Lynn J. Skinner and the Festival. In 1985, the festival took on Hampton’s name and became the first jazz festival named for an African-American jazz musician.
Lionel Hampton was one of the most extraordinary musicians of the 20th century, and his artistic achievements symbolize the impact jazz music has had on our culture. Given his first drum lessons by a Dominican nun at the Holy Rosary Academy of Wisconsin, Lionel Hampton evolved into a well-respected and well-developed musician.

In 1930, Hampton was called to a recording session with Louie Armstrong, and during a break Hampton walked over to a vibraphone and started to play. He ended up playing the vibes on a song during the session, and the song became a hit. Hampton had introduced a new voice to jazz, and he soon became the “King of the Vibes.”

Hampton went on to create more than 200 works including the jazz standards “Flying Home,” “Evil Gal Blues” and “Midnight Sun.” He also composed the major symphonic work, “King David Suite.”

Hampton began working with the University of Idaho in the early 1980s to establish his dream for the future of music education. In 1985, the University named its jazz festival after him, and in 1987 the University’s music school was named the Lionel Hampton School of Music.

Over the next 20 years, the University of Idaho developed an unprecedented relationship with Hampton to ensure his vision lives on through the Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival, the school of music and the International Jazz Collections. In 2002 Lionel Hampton passed away, but his Legacy lives on.

In 2007, John Clayton, renowned bassist, arranger, composer, jazz educator and long-time Festival friend, joined the Festival as Artistic Director. In 2010 Steven Remington joined the Festival as Executive Director, bringing with him twenty-five years of experience in event and arts management. Now under the leadership of John Clayton and Steven Remington, the festival is building on the success of the past and we expect nothing less than excellence in the future.

The 2003 release of The Grand Unification Theory; an eleven movement piece featuring Latin, Classical, African and Jazz influences earned a Grammy nomination, JAZZIZ Critica Choice and 4 star reviews from Downbeat Magazine, Rolling Stone and The Los Angeles Times.

His 2001 CD Kindred earned him his second Grammy nod for Best Jazz Album. A quartet recording with the noted pianist Jacky Terrasson Kindred is a follow-up to his sophomore release Black Action Figure (Blue Note Records) which was also nominated for a Grammy for Best Jazz Instrumental Solo. His premiere as a leader, A Cloud of Red Dust, was voted Best Debut Recording at the 1999 New York Jazz Awards.

GRACE KELLY

When it comes to singer/ saxophonist/ composer/ lyricist/ arranger/ producer/ educator Grace Kelly, people seem to be divided into two groups: those who marvel at her proficiency, creativity and ever-accelerating growth, and those who have yet to encounter the 20-year-old wunderkind. The ranks of the former category are growing by the day. Kelly has been voted “Best Jazz Act” in Boston four consecutive years in the FNX/Phoenix Best Music Poll, and then voted Best National Jazz Act in 2012. She has received the ASCAP Foundation’s Young Jazz Composers Award in 2007, 2008, 2010, 2011 and 2013 and won “Jazz Artist of the Year” at the Boston Music Awards in both 2008 and 2010. The 2009, 2010, 2011 and 2012 Downbeat Critics Poll added her to the list naming her one of the “Alto Saxophone Rising Stars”, the youngest artist ever to be named to the music poll.

She has performed and recorded with the likes of Dave Brubeck, Wynton Marsalis, Phil Woods, Harry Connick Jr., Jamies Cullum, Frank Morgan, Esperanza Spalding, Toots Thielemans, Hank Jones, Adam Rogers, Rufus Reid, Kenny Barron, Dianne Reeves, Ann Hampton Callaway, Cedar Walton, James Cotton, Dee Dee Bridgewater, and Terri Lynn Carrington among others. Her album GRACEfulLEE, produced in collaboration with her long-time friend and mentor Lee Konitz, with the all-star support of guitarist Russell Malone, bassist Rufus Reid and drummer Matt Wilson, garnered a rare *½ review in Downbeat Magazine, and has been widely acclaimed as one of the best jazz recordings of 2008 and the first decade of the new millennium. 2011’s Man With The Hat followed, and saw Grace collaborating on an entire album with saxophone legend Phil Woods.

To this astonishing list of kudos and credits, also in 2011, Kelly adds “Grace”, the seventh release on her PAZZ label. The album marks a new direction for the accomplished artist into the genre of Gospel Jazz, and features renowned Gospel pianist George Russell Jr. With this album, Kelly asserts herself as a soon to be powerhouse in the Gospel Jazz world.

Kelly recently graduated Boston’s Berklee College of Music, at age 19. Since age 12 Grace has performed over 500 concerts as a leader all around the world at prominent venues such as the Montreal Jazz Festival, Newport Jazz Festival, Lincoln Center, Carnegie Hall, the Kennedy Center, the Apollo Theater, Birdland, Boston’s Symphony Hall, Juan Les Pins Jazz Festival, Dizzy’s Club Coca Cola, Tanglewood Jazz Festival, Detroit Jazz Festival, Ronnie Scott’s (London), Porgy & Bess (Vie), Scullers Jazz Club, Regatta Bar, B.B. King’s Blues Club (New York City), Jazz Bakery (LA), Dakota Jazz Club, and in venues as far away as Europe and Asia. She has also released seven full-length albums and recorded with other artists as well. Monty Alexander says, “She is not an artist for Jazz lovers only but one for the whole world.” Her ambition has yet to outstrip her talent, and Grace manifests only the beginning of the young artist’s quest to continue to reinvent herself. As Ann Hampton Callaway predicts, “There is no telling how far this child prodigy will go with the limitless possibilities of her voluminous talents.”
JEFF COFFIN

Jeff Coffin is an internationally recognized saxophonist, bandleader, composer and educator and has been traveling the globe since the late 20th Century. He is a 3x Grammy Award winner from Bela Fleck & the Flecktones and played with them from 1997-2010. In July 2008, Jeff began touring with Dave Matthews Band, and officially joined the group in 2009 following the tragic passing of founding member LeRoi Moore. When not on the road with DMB, Coffin fronts his own group, Jeff Coffin & the Mu’tet, and works around the country presenting music clinics.

Some of the artists Coffin has shared the stage and the recording studio include a “who’s who” of musicians such as Bela Fleck & the Flecktones, Dave Matthews Band, Branford Marsalis, Bob Mintzer, DJ Logic, New Orleans Social Club, Maceo Parker, McCoy Tyner, Baaba Maal, Phish, Mike Clark’s Prescription Trio, Galactic, Kirk Whalum, My Morning Jacket, Widespread Panic, Chris Thile, Willie Nelson, Chester Thompson, Garth Brooks, Van Morrison, J.D. Souther, Vinnie Colaiuta, The Dixie Chicks, ‘Rakalam’ Bob Moses, Stanton Moore, Brooks and Dunn, Tuvan Throat Singers – the Alash Ensemble & Konger Ol Ondar, George Porter Jr., Umphrey’s McGee, Del McCoury, John Scofield, Yo’ner Mountain String Band, Marc Broussard, Martin McBride, Lynyrd Skynyrd, the Wailers and many, many others.

Along the way, Coffin has absorbed an astounding range of influences. “Whether it be New Orleans Second Line, African, Indian Ragas, Brazilian, folk songs, Gypsy music, Alan Lomax field recordings, jazz, funk, etc...” he says, “the spirit and breath of the music is what I take away from the listening and playing. It’s what decides for me if I like it or not...I consider it ‘Spirit Music.’” Coffin is also known to play two saxes at a time, a nod to the late great saxophonist Rahsaan Roland Kirk.

Jeff is a heavily in-demand clinician, a Yamaha & D’Addario Performing Artist and, since 2001, has presented over 300 solo and Mu’tet music clinics from Farmington, Maine to Perth, Australia to Johannesburg, South Africa to students of all ages to raving reviews.

Living in Nashville, TN since 1991, Coffin graduated with a music education degree from the prestigious University of North Texas in 1990 where he played in the acclaimed One O’Clock Lab Band. He also studied with sax great Joe Lovano on a National Endowment for the Arts grant.

A number of Jeff’s compositions have been published as big band arrangements through the University of Northern Colorado (UNC) Jazz Press and he has presented them in concerts with many ensembles. Education continues to be an important part of what Jeff shares with others, and he is a tireless champion to players of all ages and levels to discover and cultivate their own musical voice.

At the 2000 Grammy Awards, in addition to Bela Fleck & the Flecktones winning a Grammy Award for Best Contemporary Jazz Recording (Outbound), Coffin’s tune, Zona Mona (also from Outbound) was Grammy nominated for Best Pop Instrumental Composition.

ALL-STAR QUARTET

GRAHAM DECHTER

An accomplished guitarist, composer and arranger, Graham Dechter plays with the kind of swinging authority and seasoned maturity that belies his young age. The 28-year-old Los Angeles native, a member of the Clayton-Hamilton Jazz Orchestra since he was 18, shows a deep reverence for the jazz guitar tradition in his warm-toned renditions of ballads, bossas, bebop and blues. A formidable soloist and consummate accompanist, he imbues standards with rare enthusiasm and an inherent bluesiness while carving out his own path with several affecting original compositions.

Born into a musical family — his mother Maureen came from a musical theater tradition while his father Brad is a renowned orchestrator and composer who has worked on over 250 film scores and arranged for artists such as Johnny Mathis and Barbra Streisand. “My dad’s first passion was jazz,” Graham recalls. “When I was a little kid he would play me all these great recordings by Duke Ellington, Count Basie and Nat King Cole. So growing up, I became very accustomed to that sound and vibe.” Originally a classical violinist and composer, Dechter had an eye-opening experience in high school while taking an improvisation class with bassist Marshall Hawkins at California’s Idyllwild Arts Academy. As he told Just Jazz Guitar magazine: “Marshall is the real thing. He’s played with everyone from Miles Davis to Shirley Horn and Phineas Newborn, Jr. So getting the opportunity to study with someone who was that close to the history of the music was life-changing for me. If it weren’t for Marshall, I wouldn’t be doing what I’m doing today.”

In 2005, after completing his first year at the Eastman School of Music, Dechter was invited to join the Clayton-Hamilton Jazz Orchestra at age 19. He subsequently returned to Los Angeles, where he began studying with Larry Koonse. Here is what Koonse, a respected and in-demand Los Angeles-based jazz and studio guitarist, had to say about Dechter: “It’s hard to fathom how someone at his age can possess so much knowledge and ability on the instrument. He has it all — chops, harmonic depth, deep swing, melodic inventiveness and serious arranging skills. He is only at the beginning of his journey in becoming a major force in the global jazz community. I look forward to watching his journey unfold.”
KEVIN KANNER

Kevin Kanner, a native of Southern California, has already amassed a large number of jazz credits including recordings with Paul Anka, Bill Holman (including 2006 and 2007 Grammy® nominated recordings), Gilbert Castellanos, Melissa Morgan, Annie Sellick, Gail Wynters, The Bud Shank Big Band, Josh Nelson and Michael Buble.

In addition to the vast amount of sideman work, Kevin has also led perhaps the most well remembered jazz jam session in recent Los Angeles history at the historic venue, the Mint. This session, called Groove Pocket, featured prominent underground hip hop DJ stars as well as a weekly band that over the course of six years consisted of, Ambrose Akinmusire, Tim Green, Gerald Clayton, Harish Raghavanan, Joe Sanders, Larry Fuller, James Westfall, Charles Altura, Hamilton Price, Josh Nelson and Matt Poitano.

JOSH NELSON

Josh Nelson, born and raised in Southern California, maintains an active and creative schedule as a jazz pianist, composer, teacher, and recording artist. At 34 years old, he has already performed with some of the most respected names in jazz, including Natalie Cole, Anthony Wilson, Bob Hurst, Jeff Hamilton, Ralph Moore, Albert “Tootie” Heath, Seamus Blake, Matt Wilson, Sara Gazarek, Ernie Watts, and Jack Sheldon to name a few. Josh has recorded for countless albums, films, and TV shows, but also makes time for his own projects: First Stories (1998), Anticipation (2004) and Let it Go (2007, Native Language Music) all garnered international critical claim. Josh’s 4th album, I Hear a Rhapsody (2009), featured Josh’s musings on new original music, standard interpretations, and reinventions of pop tunes. His recent record, Discoveries, pairs classic sci-fi movies with new compositions for a brass and wind ensemble.

Original music and performances of his have appeared on various prime-time and cable shows and films, including “Jack and Bobby”, “The Division”, “Lucky”, and “First Daughter”. He has also worked with film composer Michael Kamen, and actors Eric Idle, Clint Eastwood, and Jon Lovitz. Josh has earned many awards, scholarships, and accolades over the years, some of which include the Louis Armstrong Award and the John Philip Sousa Award. Currently, Josh continues his touring with legendary vocalist Natalie Cole. He is also always working on a new album, and is just happy to be alive and playing with wonderful musicians!

KATIE THIROUX

Katie Thiroux is a bassist and vocalist of outstanding talent and determination. Coming from a musical family in Los Angeles, she was surrounded by music; beginning with violin lessons at age 4 then switching to the acoustic bass at age 8. While continuing her studies on bass, Katie explored both jazz and classical vocal styles; landing principal roles in the LA Opera and Opera Pacifica by the age of 10. Captivated by an early recording of Lionel Hampton, Katie was driven to pursue her love for jazz and began studying privately with jazz vocalist Tierney Sutton at the age of 12.

After receiving her Master’s of Music in Jazz Studies in 2012, Katie has been active on both coasts with appearances at the 2012 WGBO NYC Jazz Festival, featured performer and special duo performance with John Clayton at the Newport Beach Jazz Party, Los Angeles Jazz Institute Festival, frequent shows at the historic Lighthouse in Hermosa Beach and in 2013, she was awarded a Kennedy Center Betty Carter Jazz Ahead Fellowship in Washington, D.C.

In 2013, Katie formed her quartet with guitarist Graham Dechter (Clayton-Hamilton Jazz Orchestra, Michael Buble), saxophonist Roger Neumann (Anita O’Day, Woody Herman) and drummer Matt Witek (John Pizzarelli Quartet). Working together as often as their schedules allow, her group’s most recent effort is an album to be released this coming Fall. The recording was produced by world-renowned drummer Jeff Hamilton, engineered by Grammy Award winner Steve Genewick and mastered at Capitol Records by Grammy Award winner Ron McMaster.

With her quartet, Katie travels, performs and conducts workshops for students and audiences all over the world. She has performed at jazz festivals in the United States, Mexico, Germany, Finland, Serbia and Singapore. It is her passionate belief that exposure to jazz history, culture and styles is vital in keeping the music alive and thriving. Katie’s swinging bass, clear vocals and inspired instrumental arrangements are reflective of her musical idols: Ray Brown, Oscar Peterson, Chet Baker and Anita O’Day. Katie Thiroux’s knowledge, perseverance and fervor for the music make her a rising force in today’s scene.
Having appeared on over two hundred recordings as a sideman, pianist Mike Wofford now continues to record and perform primarily as a leader. He has received critical acclaim for his Live at Maybeck, vol. 18 in the Concord Records solo piano series, and his 2004 CD Live at Athenaeum Jazz on Capri Records, with bassist Peter Washington and drummer Victor Lewis. In 2008, Capri released Live at Athenaeum Jazz, vol. 2, a duo CD with his wife, flutist Holly Hofmann. Mike’s newest quintet CD Turn Signal, due out in January 2012, is also on Capri and is co-led with Hofmann, featuring Terell Stafford on trumpet.

A native Texan, Wofford was raised in San Diego, California where he resides currently. His mother was a professional singer, and he began studying piano at age seven. At nineteen, he moved to Los Angeles and entered the jazz scene there in the early 1960s. His first professional performances were with the legendary Lighthouse All-Stars and the bands of Teddy Edwards, Art Pepper, Red Norvo, Chet Baker, Bud Shank, Zoot Sims, Shorty Rogers and Maynard Ferguson, as well as a tenure as singer June Christy’s accompanist. It was during this time that he also appeared on his first jazz recordings with Mel Tormé, Gary Burton and Joe Pass. He also subsequently recorded the first albums on Epic and Discovery Records under his own name.

By the late 1960s, Wofford also became busy as a free-lance session player in Los Angeles on recording dates and motion picture and TV soundtracks. He was the staff pianist on such live TV series as “The Bill Cosby Show” with Quincy Jones, and was first-call pianist for Oliver Nelson at Universal Pictures. He also became active as an arranger, working at Capitol Records as well as writing for such artists as Sergio Mendes, and the Mike Barone Big Band. During this time, Mike also performed and recorded with Roger McGuinn, John Lennon, The Jackson 5, Tom Scott, Joan Baez and Harry Nilsson, among many others from the pop world.

Holly Hofmann’s first memories as a musician are some of her fondest. At age 5 she would spend evenings playing a child’s flutophone, accompanying her father, a jazz guitarist, on standards from the Great American Songbook. It was an auspicious beginning for the woman who, after years of performing in classical ensembles, would find equally satisfying partnerships with such renowned jazzmen as Ray Brown, Frank Wess, James Moody, Kenny Barron and hundreds of other top names in the music.

Today, Holly Hofmann has taken the flute from its middle-of-the-orchestra origins and made it a front-line instrument in jazz. She has earned the praise and respect of musicians and jazz aficionados for her bluesy, bebop-based improvisations and technical prowess on an instrument that many once regarded as definitely not a jazz horn.

Hofmann and the highly respected pianist/arranger Wofford married in 2000 and the two toured in a quartet with Brown and Lewis. Besides her work with Slide Hampton and Frank Wess, Hofmann has collaborative with Kenny Barron, Cedar Walton, John Clayton, Houston Person, Regina Carter, Terell Stafford and Kevin Mahogany, among many others.

Hofmann also teaches jazz and flute and conducts master classes at schools and universities around the country. She is on the Board of Directors at Keynote Jazz Foundation which provides concerts and clinics in high schools and middle schools in the United States. With twelve recordings as a leader in the duo or quartet setting, Holly Hofmann is earning respect for the flute as a jazz instrument. She has become the standard by which jazz flute is being judged.

ALI RYERSON

With a career spanning over four decades, jazz flutist Ali Ryerson consistently ranks among the top flutists in the Downbeat Jazz Poll. Born in 1952 in New York City, Ali grew up in a musical family. Her father, Art Ryerson, was a renowned jazz guitarist who got his start with the Paul Whiteman Orchestra, and later became one of the first-call studio players in NYC for five decades, recording with everyone from Louis Armstrong to Charlie Parker to Elvis Presley.

Ali Ryerson has carried on the family tradition, becoming an international touring/recording artist, with performances ranging from Carnegie Hall to the Blue Note to festival appearances worldwide. Ryerson has released nearly two-dozen albums as leader or co-leader on major jazz labels such as Concord Records, DMP, Capri, and legendary jazz producer Bob Thiele's Red Baron. She has recorded and performed with jazz greats such as Stephane Grappelli, Red Rodney, Roy Haynes, Hubert Laws, Art Farmer, Kenny Barron, Frank Wess, and Joe Beck, as well as classical artists Julius Baker, Luciano Pavarotti (while principal flutist with the Monterey Bay Orchestra), and harpsichord master Anthony Newman.

Ali was musical director of the Hudson River Regional Jazz Festival (2001-‘04), Jazz chair of the National Flute Association (2005-‘10), Low Flutes Chair of NFA (current) and founder of the NFA Jazz Flute Big Band. As an educator/author, Ryerson published her widely acclaimed Jazz Flute Practice Method book in ’09, and has written numerous instructional articles for The Flutist Quarterly, Downbeat Magazine, and Flute Talk, among others.

Ms. Ryerson recently joined the faculty at Sacred Heart University in Fairfield CT as flute professor, and conducts master classes worldwide, including her week-long annual master class held at Hidden Valley Music Seminars in California. Ms. Ryerson has been on the faculty of the Litchfield Jazz Camp, the IUAM JAZZ summer camp in Italy, is a visiting faculty member at The Jazzschool in Berkeley, CA and a visiting artist-in-residence at universities throughout the US and abroad. She currently teaches an online master class series through LessonFace in NYC.
The Airmen of Note is the premier jazz ensemble of the United States Air Force. Stationed at Joint Base Anacostia-Bolling in Washington, D.C., it is one of six musical ensembles that comprise The U.S. Air Force Band. Created in 1950 to continue the tradition of Major Glenn Miller’s Army Air Corps dance band, the current band consists of 18 active duty Airmen musicians including one vocalist.

Through the years, the Airmen of Note has presented its own brand of big band jazz as well as more contemporary forms of jazz to audiences via annual tours across the United States, deployments around the world and local performances throughout metropolitan Washington, D.C. For smaller, more intimate venues, the Airmen of Note Combo and various individual musicians perform apart from the full band to support military and civilian ceremonial and diplomatic events.

Their commitment to musical excellence has earned the respect of the foremost jazz artists from around the globe, leading to many collaborative performances and recordings with such luminaries as Dizzy Gillespie, Joe Williams, Sarah Vaughan and Doc Severinsen.

In 1990, the Airmen of Note established the Jazz Heritage Series, featuring the “Note” in concert with legendary icons of jazz. Each year, the series is broadcast to millions over National Public Radio, independent jazz radio stations, satellite radio services and the Internet. In addition, the “Note” produces and delivers recorded music to millions of fans worldwide each year through hundreds of media outlets. One of the group’s recent holiday recordings, “Cool Yule,” reached #2 on the JazzWeek jazz chart.

As part of The U.S. Air Force Band, The Airmen of Note honors those who have served, inspires American citizens to heightened patriotism and service, and positively impacts the global community on behalf of the U.S. Air Force and the United States. The excellence demonstrated by these Airmen musicians is a reflection of the excellence displayed by Airmen stationed around the globe. Each member is proud to represent all Airmen, whose selfless service and sacrifices ensure the freedoms we enjoy as citizens of the United States of America.
BRIA SKONBERG

In 2013 she earned a Jazz Journalists’ Association nomination for “Up and Coming Jazz Artist of The Year” and has been included in DOWNBEAT Magazine’s Rising Star Critics’ Poll the last two years. She has recently been honored with a New York Bistro Award for “Outstanding Jazz Artist”. Her first professional gig was as a big band singer at age sixteen doubling on trumpet and she has since performed as a bandleader and guest artist at over 50 jazz festivals in North America, Europe, China and Japan. Since moving to New York in 2010 she has headlined at Symphony Space, Birdland, The Iridium, Dizzy’s and Cafe Carlyle.

She has been featured on Wycliffe Gordon’s projects, recording on the Louis Armstrong tribute “Hello Pops”, performing a Tribute to Dizzy Gillespie at Dizzy’s Jazz Club in New York and as a member of his big band. Bria focuses on innovating while honoring tradition: She has studied with Warren Vache, experimented with fuzz pedals and presented a gig fusing jazz and stand up comedy.

Best known for her knowledge of classic jazz and pursuit of worldwide adventure, she is now creating a style rooted in hot jazz, world percussion, soul, and electronic effects available on her newest album INTO YOUR OWN (Random Act Records). Her debut US release SO IS THE DAY, peaked at #7 on the US National jazz charts; it features mostly original material and an all-star ensemble including John Pizzarelli, Victor Goines and Wycliffe Gordon. Released on Random Act Records, 10% of all proceeds go to support the Jazz Foundation of America.

She currently tours the world, headlining major clubs and festivals as well as programming music education workshops for all ages. She is an active volunteer at the Louis Armstrong House Museum in Corona, Queens and co-producer of the New York Hot Jazz Festival.

MESCHIYA LAKE

Meschiya began her singing career at the age of nine, earning a regular gig and winning $500 upon winning an adults only singing contest in a South Dakota Steakhouse. In 2000 as a young woman, she met and began traveling with the Know Nothing Family Zirkus Zideshow and End of the World Circus - a troupe blending traditional circus arts with modern sideshow varieties where Meschiya honed her performance skills with such thrilling acts as glass and insect eating and fire dancing (dangerously twirling around on stage with flame-doused nunchucks). It was while touring with this troupe that she fell in love with and felt immediately embraced by the culturally rich and one of a kind city of New Orleans, her home base for the last decade and counting.

In the Spring of 2007, Meschiya began singing with the traditional jazz outfit the Loose Marbles on the French Quarters Royal Street. Joined by jazz dancers Chance Bushman and Amy Johnson, a new revival of traditional jazz and dance consequently blossomed: Bringing the joy and vitality of New Orleans’s spirit, wowing audiences both young and old alike, they toured the United States and Europe, playing on streets, in clubs, and leaving a trail of write-ups in publications along the way. Dan Baum of the New Yorker writes “Meschiya Lake rocks back on her heels, lifts her chest, and opens her throat like an air raid siren to croon in a thrilling pre-microphone style that...can make you feel by turns as though you were shivering around a campfire in a railroad (yard) or drinking in a budapest nightclub in 1938.”

Upon the tours return in the Fall of 2007, her acquisition for musical knowledge insatiable, Meschiya took up the guitar and banjo and, with singer Erika Lewis, formed The Magnolia Beacon, creating original, dark, melodic, minor keyed compositions focusing on vocal harmony. Taking their hit duo on the road, the two songstresses grew and solidified fan bases in New York and Berlin, on the streets and clubs of France and Latvia, and every spot along the way and in between, the success of their songs even finding their way into the German movie by writer Kerstin Hoekel “Peirogi”.

Once back home in New Orleans, she delighted in participating in and watching the jazz revival unfold around her, with jazz and jazz dance fever bringing more and more musicians and dancers to town. Meschiya formed The Little Big Horns Jazz Band in the Spring of 2009 and, saving pennies from the street, she produced the first Little Big Horns album Lucky Devil to National Acclaim. On the 5th anniversary of Katrina, DJ David Kunian of WWOZ cited Lucky Devil as one of his four favorite releases of 2010 on NPRs All Things Considered.

University of Idaho
Dianne Reeves

Dianne Reeves is among the pre-eminent jazz vocalists in the world. In her first studio album in five years, Reeves delivers what is destined to become a soul-jazz classic. The album, Beautiful Life, also marks a new relationship with Concord Records—which is not entirely new: Reeves was featured in George Clooney’s six-time Academy Award nominated “Good Night, and Good Luck,” and performed every song on the Grammy-winning soundtrack which was released on Concord Jazz.

In what has been a storied, extraordinary career, Beautiful Life features some of the most engaging songs Reeves has ever offered. “Even in a world with much sadness,” says Reeves, “at its essence, life is beautiful and I wanted to celebrate that which can be easily overlooked.” Most certainly, among those things not to be overlooked is Beautiful Life.

A multiple Grammy-winner, Reeves has recorded and performed extensively with the Lincoln Center Jazz Orchestra featuring Wynton Marsalis, who said of Reeves, “She has one of the most powerful, purposeful and accurate voices of this or any time.” Reeves has also recorded with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra conducted by Daniel Barenboim and was a featured soloist with Sir Simon Rattle and the Berlin Philharmonic. In addition, she was the first Creative Chair for Jazz for the Los Angeles Philharmonic and the first singer to ever perform at the famed Walt Disney Concert Hall.
Christine Jensen was born in Sechelt, British Columbia, in 1970, growing up in Nanaimo among some of Canada’s finest musicians, including Phil Dwyer, Diana Krall, blues guitarist, David Gogo, and her sister Ingrid. Her pianist/mother raised her daughters on music, exposing them to everything from Chopin to Broadway to Big Bands. Once she started studying the saxophone at age 12, she quickly grew to love it as she realized that she could create her own voice through that instrument.

Jensen took up roots, leaving Nanaimo for Montreal to get her first degree from McGill University in jazz performance in 1994. She followed this up by completing her Master’s in Jazz Performance in 2006. Christine has honed her skills as a saxophonist under the tutelage of an impressive list of leading musicians including Pat La Barbera, Kenny Werner, Jim McNeely, Remi Bolduc, Dick Oatts and Steve Wilson.

As an adjudicator, clinician, and instructor at McGill, she is influencing the next generation of composers and players. In her travels abroad, she has shared her love of music and invaluable experience with young jazz enthusiasts around the world, from Norway to Peru, Turkey to Montreal, and back home on the West Coast. She has always been active in jazz education, leading clinics and workshops and adjudicating.

Noted for her ability to transfer the intimate sound of a quartet into larger ensembles, Jensen’s music has been performed by ensembles around the globe, including the Frankfurt Radio Big Band, Germany; the UMO Big Band, Finland; and the McGill Jazz Orchestra, Montreal. She was honoured with an Opus Award for Jazz Concert of the Year in 2006, from the Quebec Council for the Arts, for leading the 18-member Christine Jensen Jazz Orchestra, with special guest Donny McCaslin.

Ingrid was featured on Gil Evans’ Porgy and Bess at the San Francisco Jazz Festival, under the direction of Maria Schneider and was also a guest in the festival’s “Tribute to Woody Shaw and Freddie Hubbard”, alongside Terence Blanchard, Eddie Henderson, Bobby Hutcherson and Kenny Garrett. Some of the many musicians she has performed and or recorded with include; Steve Wilson, Jeff ‘Tain’ Watts, Dr.Lonnie Smith, Marc Copland, Bob Berg, Gary Thomas, Gary Bartz, Jeff Hamilton, Bill Stewart, Terri-Lynn Carrington, Geri Allen, Geoffrey Keezer, Billy Hart, George Garzone, Chris Connor, Victor Lewis, Clark Terry, Frank Wess, Badal Roy, Mike Clark, Jason Miles and Global Noize, Dr.Billy Taylor and the DIVA Big Band. She also performed on SNL with the British soul star, Corrine Bailey Rae and played a number of gigs with comedian/actor/singer Dennis Leary with special guest, Peter Frampton.

Ingrid was on staff at the Port Townsend Centrum Jazz Workshop for five consecutive years and from 1990 until 1992 held the professor of Jazz Trumpet chair at the Bruckner Conservatory of Music in Austria. Currently, she is an artist-in-residence on the trumpet faculty at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor. Jensen continues to fill her schedule with an astonishing array of artistic creativity as a performer and educator. In addition to performing, she conducts master classes, clinics, and workshops around the world.
Lionel Hampton was always a lightening rod for exceptional talent. He discovered, nurtured and trained some of the most talented jazz musicians over the last 60 years and employed many of them in the Lionel Hampton Big Band, including Benny Golson, Quincy Jones, Wes Montgomery, Clark Terry, Dexter Gordon, Charlie Mingus, Cat Anderson, Ernie Royal, Joe Newman, Dinah Washington, Joe Williams, Fats Navarro and Illinois Jacquet—the soloist on Hamp’s hit song from 1942, “Flying Home.” His protégés included Betty Carter and Aretha Franklin.

This year’s Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival Big Band, under the guidance of John Clayton, will feature a college student selected through auditions among several regional universities to work side-by-side with the stellar talents of the Big Band members.

This Saturday evening tribute to Lionel Hampton’s Big Band will feature guests Stefon Harris, Dianne Reeves, Ernie Andrews, Wycliffe Gordon, Tia Fuller and Ken Peplowski. Prepare for a hard swinging set of music that celebrates the legacy of Lionel Hampton.

The Spirit of Harmony

WYCLIFFE GORDON

Musical ambassador and interpreter of America’s music, Wycliffe Gordon experiences an impressive career touring the world performing hard-swinging, straight-ahead jazz receiving great acclaim from audiences and critics alike. His unmatched modern mastery of the plunger mute and his exceptional technique and signature sound, has solidified Gordon a place in musical history known as one of the top trombonists of his generation. Wycliffe was named “Best in Trombone” by the Downbeat Critics Poll three years running now (2014, 2013 & 2012) and Jazz Journalists Association named him “Trombonist of the Year”. He is a past recipient of the ASCAP Foundation Vanguard Award, among others.

In addition to an extremely successful solo career, Gordon tours regularly leading the Wycliffe Gordon Quartet, headlining at legendary jazz venues and performing arts centers throughout the world. Gordon is a former veteran member of the Wynton Marsalis Septet, Lincoln Center Jazz Orchestra and has been a featured guest artist on Billy Taylor’s “Jazz at the Kennedy Center” Series. His “Jazz a la Carte” show, which debuted at the Apollo Theater, was named one of the “top five best moments in jazz” for the year 2011 by The Wall Street Journal.

His most recent releases, “Hello Pops, A Tribute to Louis Armstrong” and “Dreams of New Orleans” continue to receive rave reviews and both albums pay homage to Wycliffe’s musical hero. Musicians and ensembles of every caliber perform his music throughout the world and his arrangement of the theme song to NPR’s “All Things Considered” is heard daily across the globe.

Wycliffe Gordon is a Yamaha Performing Artist and has his own line of Wycliffe Gordon Pro Signature Mouthpieces by Pickett Brass. When playing trumpet he performs on the Wycliffe “hybrid” by Chason’s Music.

ERNIE ANDREWS

Ernie Andrews has managed to be both popular and underrated throughout his lengthy career. After his family moved to Los Angeles, he sang in a church choir, and while still attending high school had a few hits for the G&G label. Billy Eckstine and Al Hibbler were early influences and, after reaching maturity, Andrews was somewhat in the shadow of Joe Williams (who has a similar style). Andrews recorded for Aladdin, Columbia, and London in the late ’40s, spent six years singing with the Harry James Orchestra, and cut a couple of big band dates for GNP/Crescendo during 1958-1959. Despite his unchanging style, Andrews was mostly in obscurity during the 1960s and ’70s, just making a couple of albums for Dot during 1965-1966. A 1980 Discovery date found him in excellent form, and in the ’80s, he was rediscovered. Andrews recorded with the Capp/ Pierce Juggernaut, Gene Harris’ Superband, Jay McShann, and with the Harper Brothers, in addition to making a few sets in the 1990s for Muse, and later High Note. He is also prominent in the documentary Blues for Central Avenue.

KEN PEPLOWSKI

In his early teens, he was experimenting with jazz by playing in the school “stage” bands, and also by jamming with many of the local jazz musicians. “By the time I hit high school, I was teaching at the local music store, playing in our family band, and playing jazz gigs around town while still getting up early every day for school.”

After a year of college, Ken joined the Tommy Dorsey Orchestra under the direction of Buddy Morrow. “Buddy heard me with my quartet at a Cleveland jazz festival along with Teddy Wilson’s trio and the Dorsey band, and made an offer right then and there for me to not only play lead alto, but to have a feature spot on the clarinet with the rhythm section.

Peplowski signed with Concord Records, under the tutelage of Carl Jefferson, the founder and president, and recorded close to 20 albums as a leader, including “The Natural Touch” in 1992 which won Best Jazz Record of the Year by the Prises Deutschen Schallplatten Kritiken, “On The Avenue,” recorded in Sophia Bulgaria with the symphony orchestra and highlighting Ken’s classical side. He also recorded two records on the Nagel Heyer label, “Lost In The Stars” and “Easy To Remember”, the latter of which features Bobby Short on his last recording.

Peplowski has played Hollywood Bowl (where he landed a sold-out concert), headlining in Las Vegas, the Newport Jazz Festival, pops concerts, European festivals and clubs, or at home in NYC, doing everything from playing on the soundtracks to Woody Allen movies, guest soloing on records to taking on the role of music director for interactive French and Italian cookbooks (“Menus And Music”).

Peplowski also does many workshops for students of all ages- “My goal is to get the students to learn how to teach themselves, and to learn how to bring out their own best qualities; after all, jazz is about individuality-first you learn the rules, then you break them. I would like to think of myself as a lifelong student!”

Ken Peplowski is a Buffet-Crampon artist, and plays the R-13 clarinet, with a Portnoy mouthpiece and Van Doren German-cut reeds. He also plays a Yamaha tenor sax and a Berg Larsen mouthpiece.

Ken Peplowski has recorded approximately 50 CDs as a soloist, and close to 400 as a sideman – some of the artists he’s performed/recorded with include Charlie Byrd, Mel Torme, Rosemary Clooney, Erich Kunzel and the Cincinnati Pops, Hank Jones, Peggy Lee, Bill Charlap, Woody Allen, Benny Goodman, and Madonna.

TIA FULLER

Tia Fuller's third release on Mack Avenue Records, Angelic Warrior, marks her deep-rooted evolution as an instrumentalist, composer and bandleader. After five years in Beyoncé’s band, the pop diva’s attention to detail in the studio rubbed off on Fuller. She has since developed a heightened focus in the editing, mixing and mastering process of Angelic Warrior, as the producer. And as the Assistant Musical Director for Esperanza Spalding’s Radio Music Society touring band, Fuller applies her pop and jazz chops on behalf of some of the hottest artists in music today.

On Angelic Warrior, Fuller makes an aesthetic statement that’s fully her own. The album celebrates the peaceful demeanor of the ‘angel’ and the drive and determination of the ‘warrior’ spirit within. Fuller says, “While writing this album, I was balancing different aspects in my life and career...trying to pull from the ‘warrior’ energy, while remaining graceful in my spirit. We can all celebrate the Angelic Warrior within ourselves by trusting in our vision, doing the work and maintaining a level of peace.” In addition, Angelic Warrior pays homage to the angels in Fuller's life: her family and friends. “I wanted to celebrate core individuals who serve as pillars of inspiration,” she says.

Fuller’s father would call for “Body and Soul” when they’d gig together back in Colorado, her birthplace. “Here I’m paying homage to my mom and dad, the body and soul of the family. I wanted to incorporate a solid bass line to represent my father [bassist Fred Fuller] and feature master vocalist, Dianne Reeves, to celebrate my mother [vocalist Elthopia Fuller]. What a dream come true to have Dianne featured on this arrangement.”

Of Fuller’s saxophone performance, Carrington says: “She plays with the kind of aggression that men do. My dad says, Tia’s a woman playing that horn like it’s supposed to be played. He’s old-school, I understood what he meant.” You will too when hearing the searing bite and intelligence-grounded-in-feeling of Fuller’s alto and soprano sax. On alto, she’s like a warrior—her fire and punch, as well as rhythmic freedom and drive are obvious to listeners. Furthermore, her soulful soprano sax styling is the angelic voice in her sound spectrum.

Fuller’s aesthetic statement on Angelic Warrior is grounded in a jazz mode of expression that embraces both the classic and the contemporary sounds surrounding her. It’s no mistake that artists from Ralph Peterson, Jr. and Esperanza Spalding to Terri Lyne Carrington and Beyoncé include her instrumental voice and vision in their work. With this recording, Tia Fuller surfaces clearly, rising to the top of her generation of musicians. Fusing traditions, styles, and unafraid of genre boundaries, Fuller’s music transgresses the musical frontiers of today, manifest to last well into the future.

Opportunities are Everywhere

The Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival is proud to be a leading provider of jazz music education to thousands of students from across the nation and Canada. Every year the festival offers an array of workshops, student performance clinics and concerts to give students the skills to enhance their knowledge, understanding and appreciation of jazz. In February, a multitude of acclaimed master musicians, educators and artist educators from around the world come together to give students and directors a priceless experience in music education.

Workshops

As students gather in Moscow during the week of the festival a host of clinics and workshops are offered around town. Each workshop presents one of the festival’s special guest artists, educators or artist educators.

Workshop participants have the chance to hear main stage artists play, tell stories and demonstrate the techniques they use every day. At some workshops, presenting artists invite students to perform on the stage with them, so be prepared! Bring your music, instrument and voice to take advantage of these rare and exciting moments. Don’t forget your questions. This is your chance to get up-close and personal with the finest musicians jazz has to offer.

The workshops provide instruction, handouts and resources for you to improve your playing, singing and understanding of jazz. You can learn about jazz history, world jazz influencers, being a better director and how to use music technology. Some of the workshops are held in a master class format allowing you to bring your instrument. In the hands-on workshops, you will be a full participant experiencing instructions and techniques first-hand.

You can engage in the physical side of the music by participating in one of many dance clinics that will prepare you to dance the night away at the Saturday concert.

Learn more about the University of Idaho by participating in a campus tour or department workshop!

Student Performance Clinics

What would a jazz festival be without the performances? The festival offers students the opportunity to take to the stage and astound audiences with their talent and enthusiasm. During the day, students perform in ensembles, combos and as soloists. The festival staff has chosen some of the best performance evaluation clinicians to listen to student performances and provide feedback and tips for improvement.

In the late afternoons, the Young Artist Concerts allow clinician-chosen ensembles to perform on the main stage to the accolades of peers and audience members. Thursday will feature the elementary, junior high, middle school and college performers. High school vocalist ensembles will show what they’ve got on Friday, and high school instrumentalist ensembles will perform on-stage Saturday.

Hamp’s Club

Hamp’s Club is the festival’s newest tradition of honoring the excellence and excitement of our solo student performers. This new venue gives the day’s solo performers the opportunity to feel like professionals as they take to their very own stage. Hamp’s Club gives students the chance to feel what it’s like to play the clubs.

Corey Christiansen

Widely heralded as a gifted young player with a passionate sound, jazz guitarist Corey Christiansen took up the instrument at the age of five. Corey earned a bachelor's degree in music from Utah State and a master's degree in jazz performance from the University of South Florida. He maintains a very active international teaching and playing career. He first started coming to the Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival in 1995 and won "Best Big Band Guitarist" that year. In 1996 he won back-to-back "Best Jazz Guitar Soloist." Corey served as senior editor for Mel Bay Publications from 2000 to 2007 and has written or co-written more than 70 books for the company. As well as maintaining his active touring schedule, he currently teaches full time at Utah State University and is a visiting professor at Indiana University. He has also been an "artist in residence" at the Atlanta Institute of Music since 2007. Corey has conducted countless guitar clinics and concerts across the country and beyond. He has also performed and/or recorded with many outstanding jazz artists including Jimmy Bruno, John Pisano, James Moody, Dr. Lonnie Smith, Jamey Aebersold, Steve Houghton, Joe Negri, Chuck Redd, Christian McBride, George Duke, Danny Gottlieb and many others. Corey draws on the tradition of the masters and yet leans towards the future. He is well rooted in the tradition of the jazz language, but he is bluesy and gritty enough to keep the audience in the palm of his hand.

During this time, her choreography “GIRL POOL (an adaptation)” received one of the highest honors in collegiate dance through presentation at the 2014 American College Dance Association National Conference.

Benjamin Devaud started as soccer player, but he began formally dancing at the University of Idaho in 2011. Over time he focused more on dances within the Hip Hop culture, specifically b-boying. He received further intensive training from the American Dance Festival for two summers, taking technique classes in Hip Hop (Teena Custer), Afro-Modern (Michele Gibson), and Modern (Brenda Daniels, Rodger Belman). He currently teaches Beginning Hip Hop at University of Idaho, and recently graduated with a B.S. in Biology with minors in Dance and Spanish. Overall, his goals for students are to love the dance and be themselves.

Christa Davis has taught dance, movement and physical education classes at the university level and for students K-12. Morgan Douglas is a social dancer who believes that connection is the key to dance. From foxtrot to salsa to swing, dance is a conversation in another language and the dancer must be able to speak and listen to communicate clearly. He has taught dance for the University of Idaho, Festival Dance, Swing Devils of the Palouse, Sandpoint Swing and numerous individuals. If you ask, he’ll say his first loves are West Coast Swing and tango, but the truth is, it doesn’t matter as long as he’s dancing.

Madeline Paterson has been dancing for nine years. She began as a competitive dancer in jazz, tap, and hip-hop and has honed in on contemporary and modern technique while at the University of Idaho. She performed in Melanie Meenan’s adjudicated choreography for the American College Dance Association’s Gala in Montana last spring. Madeline has a passion for performing and teaching, and plans to pursue a professional dance career after college.

The Swing Devils are a local group of swing dance enthusiasts in Moscow who meet once a week to celebrate the invention of swing music by moving in unison with it. Friday 1:00 pm - 2:00 pm University of Idaho Library, first floor
This workshop will feature Lysa Salsbury, Director of the University of Idaho’s Women’s Center, discussing some of the challenges and triumphs of the women who helped shaped the evolution of Jazz. It will also include an overview of the University Library’s International Jazz Collection, and its value to musicians, music historians, musicologists and others in conducting research. Garth Reese, Head of Special Collections and Archives for the library, will discuss the types of materials in the collections and how the library came to acquire them.

TAC  MAKING STRINGED INSTRUMENTS: WHAT KIND OF WOOD (AND WHY!)
Tom Gorman (Natural Resources)
Friday 1:00 pm - 2:20 pm, Commons Whitewater/Clearwater
Tom Gorman from the College of Natural Resources Renewable Materials program will host Mike Boeck and Steve Weill, Idaho instrument makers, who will show how they choose the wood to make violins, mandolins, and acoustic guitars, how the components are assembled, and what it takes to result in a great acoustic sound. Also included will be a recently-completed stand-up bass that features a soundboard made with Englemann spruce from Idaho; come hear its sound!

TAC  JAZZ AND ITS CRITICS
Jon Ross
Friday 2:00 pm - 3:00 pm, BookPeople, 521 S. Main St. Moscow, ID
In this one-hour session, participants will look at the role of the music critic and explore how critics write and make artistic judgments about jazz. Writers to be discussed include Leonard Feather, Nat Hentoff, Whitney Balliett and Gary Giddins as well as younger critics like Ben Ratliff and Nate Chinen. The discussion will also explore how the changing media landscape has affected arts criticism. Jon Ross has been a contributing writer for Downbeat magazine since 2008 and is a graduate of University of Idaho.

TAC  MAKING WAVES WITH MUSIC
Christine Berven and Marty Ytreberg (Physics)
Friday 2:30 pm – 3:20 pm, REN 112
Have you ever seen a sound wave? UI Physics Professors Christine Berven and Marty Ytreberg will use fun demonstrations to show how physicists explore the science of sound and how the effects of sound can be made visible.

TAC  PROTECTING THE MUSIC: JAZZ AND INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS
Bill L. Smith (Martin Institute)
Friday 2:30 pm - 3:20 pm, Commons Whitewater/Clearwater
It is complicated enough to protect the cultural heritage of humanity when there is something physical to safeguard. The Taj Mahal? Chichen Itza? The Great Barrier Reef? All challenging, but tangible and relatively straightforward to protect. But what about cultural heritage that is intangible in nature, especially ones with an element of improvisation that change not just over time but from performance to performance? Jazz demonstrates the challenges faced by the global community in working through the UN Educational, Scientific, and Cultural Organization to protect Intangible Cultural Heritage (ICH).

TAC  MATH AND THE MUSICAL SCALE
Mark Nielsen and Rob Ely (Mathematics)
Friday 3:30 pm – 4:20pm, Commons Clearwater/Water
A scale is simply a division of the octave into steps. How to do that division is a math problem, and the answer has some unexpected (and entertaining) mathematical twists! You might be surprised to see that there are simple mathematical explanations for some of the things you’ve noticed about playing music. UI Math Professors Mark Nielsen and Rob Ely will help make sense of it all.

Jazz in the Schools, the festival’s community outreach program, takes master musicians and educators to regional K-12 schools during festival week. There is no cost to participating schools and the program provides teachers and students with jazz education materials, activities and an interactive presentation with educators and artists. Jazz in the Schools meets a very real need in the community, particularly in areas that don’t have access to high quality arts programming. It helps to foster an appreciation of music and the arts, and how music can be an important and even transformative part of our lives.

In 2014, the Jazz in the Schools program had one of its most successful years ever, reaching 5,482 students in K-12 schools in Northern Idaho and Eastern Washington during the week of the Festival. Now in its 20th year, the program was designed to share the beauty and grace of this truly American art form. This vision continues to guide the program. Under the direction of John Clayton and Steven Remington, this program continues to grow and improve its presentations to regional schools.

The Audix i5 is a microphone of incredible range. The i5’s wide frequency response (between 50Hz-16kHz) and ability to handle high sound pressure levels (140 dB) without distortion makes it an ideal mic for guitar cabs, percussion, brass instruments, voice and more. Sturdy, compact and easy to position, you can count on the Audix i5 to be your go-to mic.
