Area of Emphasis Selection and
How to Apply for Admission to the Graduate Program in Bioregional Planning and Community Design

Name: _____________________________________________________

I am interested in the: _____ M.S. Degree _____ Graduate Certificate _____ Joint J.D Degree

Mark up to three preferred areas of specialization below, with 1 being your top choice.

___ Regional Planning and Multi-jurisdictional Governance
___ Community and Bioregional Design
___ Community and Economic Development
___ Transportation and Sustainable Infrastructure
___ GIS and Spatial Analysis
___ Community and Landscape Resiliency
___ Natural Hazards and Climate Change Mitigation and Adaptation

___ Other student directed focus: _______________________________________

The Following documents should be completed electronically or mailed from the educational institution or testing agency directly to the Graduate Admissions Office, University of Idaho, 875 Perimeter Drive MS 3019, Moscow, ID 83844-3019.

Incomplete packets cannot be processed or sent to the Hiring Chair.

1. Application for Admission to the UI Graduate School
2. Application fee
3. Three letters of reference, with your reference’s signature across the seal of the letter
4. 1-2 page statement of career objectives
5. This Area of Emphasis Selection Form
6. 1-2 page Curriculum Vitae/Resume
7. Official copies of all college transcripts
8. GRE scores are required for all graduate applicants who are U.S. citizens. Contact the Educational Testing Service for Graduate Records Examinations at (609)771-7670, or http://www.GRE.org/index.html
9. A minimum of 550 for paper-based or 79 for internet-based TOEFL required for all from non-English speaking countries

If you have sent some or all of the information separately prior to receiving these instructions, the information will be forwarded to the Graduate Admissions Office.

Note: This completed form is to be uploaded as part of the online application.