A Word From Our Pro

The saying goes ‘when the goose honks high, fair weather, when the goose honks low foul weather.’ Well, no pun intended but our local foul are honking low for sure. Not that inclement weather will be much of an adversary for our seasoned patrons. Just remember when playing in wet conditions – the grooves of your irons will fill with water producing less backspin resulting in flyer shots. However you won’t get more distance because the weather conditions will offset the spin less flight of the ball. So take an additional club which will help offset any mishits exasperated by wet turf conditions and will allow you to swing within yourself and better maintain your balance without losing your footing. Good Luck!

From the Grounds Crew

March was certainly wet, so the course remains walking only. The turf is greening up well and we’ve made some headway in cleaning up the winter debris. We were able to treat most of the greens for snow mold, but we haven’t started mowing, yet. Thank you golfers for minimizing your impact on the turf this spring. The wettest areas are holes 8, 14 and 15, but soggy areas still are present on every hole. The vole damage was extensive on green number six so pin placements will be reduced until the green heals. Your understanding is appreciated as the golf course recovers from a hard winter and wet spring.
Hopefully, we can get an extended break from the rain soon and dry the course.
