Parent Tax Filer Income Verification Information 2018-2019

Important Notes:
This form is for instructional purposes only and is not required to be returned to the University of Idaho. The instructions below explain how to satisfy the requirements of verification related to income information provided on the FAFSA and apply to each parent included in the household.

- If you filed a joint tax return for 2016, but were no longer married when your student filed the 2018-2019 FAFSA, you will need to submit a copy of your 2016 tax transcript (see below) and a copy of your income/wage statements, i.e. 2016 W2(s), Schedule C, etc.

- If you did not file a joint tax return for 2016, but were married or re-married when your student filed the 2018-2019 FAFSA, you will need to provide a copy of both your and your current spouse’s 2016 tax transcript (see below).

Reminder – make sure your new spouse’s demographic information is included on your student’s FAFSA.

- If you filed a joint tax return for 2016, but were married to a different person when your student filed the 2018-2019 FAFSA, you will need to provide a copy of both your and your current spouse’s 2016 tax transcript (see below). Also provide a copy of your income/wage statements, i.e. 2016 W2(s), Schedule C, etc. If your current spouse was married to a different person in 2016 and filed a joint tax return, we will also need a copy of your spouse’s income/wage statements, i.e. 2016 W2(s), Schedule C, etc. Reminder – make sure your new spouse’s demographic information is included on your student’s FAFSA.

- If you were widowed since 2016, please provide a copy of your 2016 tax transcript and a copy of your income/wage statements, i.e. 2016 W2(s), Schedule C, etc. Please contact Student Financial Aid Services for information and options available to you and your student if you feel the information reported on your 2016 taxes no longer accurately represents your family situation.

Instructions:
The best way to satisfy the requirement for 2016 tax transcript is by using the IRS Data Retrieval Tool (IRS DRT) as part of FAFSA on the Web at FAFSA.gov. In most cases, no further documentation is needed to verify 2016 income information that was transferred into the student’s FAFSA using the IRS Data Retrieval Tool. Please review options below to either a) transfer the required information directly into the FAFSA using the IRS Data Retrieval Tool or b) follow the instructions to request a copy of the 2016 Tax Return Transcript from the IRS and, upon receipt, provide a copy to Student Financial Aid Services.

Options:
- Parent, if you are able to do so, use the IRS Data Retrieval Tool in FAFSA on the Web to transfer 2016 IRS income tax return information into the student’s FAFSA. (PREFERRED METHOD)

  1. Have your student log into the 2018-19 FAFSA
  2. In the finances section of the FAFSA, you’ll be prompted to use the IRS Data Retrieval after answering eligibility questions. Provide the required FSA ID and password (if requested) then click “Link to IRS”.
  3. Provide the tax filer name, address, and other information exactly as it appears on the 2016 tax return. Check the “Transfer my Tax Information into the FAFSA” box. Click “Transfer Now”.
  4. Remember to review any other remaining items in the FAFSA and navigate to the last page where it should be signed and submitted again. UI Student Financial Aid Services will receive the corrected information within 1-2 weeks, depending on processing time.

- Parent, if you are unable to use the IRS DRT in FAFSA on the Web, and instead will provide the University of Idaho with a 2016 IRS Tax Return Transcript(s), see reverse of this form for options on requesting transcript.

If you are an extension filer who has not yet filed 2016 taxes, filed an amended 2016 tax return, are the victim of IRS tax-related identity theft, or filed a non-IRS tax return - please see back for additional instructions.
