

High School Design Day Code of Conduct

At all times, students must conduct themselves in a manner that is appropriate and a credit to their school, community and family.

- Respect the rights of others and their property.
- Be responsible, courteous, honest and fair with others.
- Communicate in an appropriate, purposeful and positive manner.
- Be an active participant in High School Design Day workshops/activities.
- Appreciate and encourage other High School Design Day participants.

Students who violate these policies may be asked to leave the activities of High School Design Day.

I have read the High School Design Day Code of Conduct and understand the responsibilities and consequences of inappropriate choices.
