LEMHI COUNTY CATTLEMEN'S WINTER SCHOOL 2023

All workshops begin at 7 p.m. at the Elks Lodge in Salmon. If you would like to participate via Zoom, email shannonw@uidaho.edu for the link.

Ranch Certification Programs • January 3

Certifications can bring more money to your operation. Learn about some various certifications that are available. NRCS and Farm Service Agency will also be covering their programs and how your operation can benefit.

Focus on the Cow • January 10

John Hall will discuss evaluating cow diets and keeping cows pregnant. Brett Wilder will discuss keeping vs buying replacement heifers. Shannon Williams will cover making the most of your haystack.

Noxious Weed Control • January 17

Ronda Hirnyck with UI Extension will cover what you need to know for successful pesticide applications. Sherm Takatori with ISDA will cover gopher biology and management. Shannon Williams and Sharayh Krantz will cover commonly asked questions about weed control. (3 recertification credits have been applied for.)

Beef Quality Assurance Certification • January 24

Idaho Beef Council BQA coordinators will cover beef quality assurance and certify those producers who would like to be certified. To be certified, you must attend in-person.

Sustainability: The Good, the Bad, and the Ugly • January 31

Dinner and speakers this night are sponsored by Dr. Sara Chaplin and Zoetis. Dinner will be at 6 p.m. and workshop at 7 p.m. Speakers will cover sustainability from two different viewpoints: sustainability and agriculture from a consumer and political perspective, and sustainable technology in agriculture. RSVP required! Please call the UI Extension office at 208-742-1697 by Thurs., Jan. 26.

Other Educational Opportunities

Range Livestock Symposium • January 12
