

CLASS Summer 2019 Research Grants

Call for Proposals

Amount: Up to $2500 per grant

Who can apply: CLASS tenure-track and tenured faculty who did not receive a summer grant award last year

Deadline: November 2, 2018

The CLASS Summer Grant Program offers up to $2500 for travel, equipment, supplies, or undergraduate or graduate research assistance (per HR guidelines) to support the research and creative work of CLASS faculty. The grant can also be used by the PI as summer salary to fund the writing of a grant that will be submitted to a federal granting agency for the 2019-20 cycle. The grants are intended to support tenure-track and tenured faculty to do one or more of the following:

1. Conduct research that will further scholarship and directly lead to a publication or creative achievement; or
2. Write and submit a grant proposal to a federal granting agency in 2019-20; or
3. Establish a collaborative research or creative project with a team of faculty that includes at least one member from another discipline and that leads either to the submission of a grant proposal to a federal granting agency or will result in scholarship and directly lead to a publication or creative achievement.

To apply, write a two-page summary detailing your plan, including a brief description of the project, a timeline, and expected outcomes. Develop and include a one-page budget. Please plan to submit a draft budget to Alisa Goolsby (alisag@uidaho.edu) by October 15, 2018 for review. Once finalized, submit your three pages with a current curriculum vitae (and those of the other grant partners if a collaborative project) to Diane Kelly-Riley, Associate Dean for Research (dianek@uidaho.edu).

Up to 12 grants will be awarded for the summer of 2018. Three are designated for assistant professors, three for associate professors, and three for full professors. The other three will go to tenured or tenure-track professor of any rank. The selection committee will consist of the CLASS dean, the Associate Dean for Research, and three department chairs.