MY BREAK-THROUGH MOMENT

“My breakthrough moment was when I realized that I could wear no makeup and have wet, crazy hair from the snow, and the friends I made would still love me. There are so many places to adventure in Moscow, and I found a group I could explore with.”

Welcome

TO THE FESTIVAL AT THE UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO!

Welcome to a hallmark of Vandal excellence – our acclaimed Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival. These two days and nights of music education and concerts exemplify the University of Idaho's long commitment to transformative experiences for students and for deep engagement with arts and culture. I'm proud to welcome students, families, educators and community members to the "Heart of the Arts" in Moscow and to our university.

The Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival has for more than half a century brought notable musicians to Idaho. We're excited to build on that tradition this year as we are joined by acts like the Grammy-Award winning Vanguard Jazz Orchestra, Dawn Clement and Paul McKee. We are proud to present the New Lionel Hampton Big Band featuring Joseph Doubleday with special guest Antonia Bennett.

The student performances and workshops, clinics and special events at the festival create a rich learning and creative environment. We bring that to the community outside Moscow, too, through the Jazz in Schools program that reaches thousands of students every year in regional K-12 schools.

Jazz is a multifaceted, ever-changing art form that respects tradition while always seeking new directions. The Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival has captured that dynamic spirit again for 2019. Thank you for joining us – let's enjoy the music and see where it takes us.

Sincerely,

Chuck Staben
President

FROM THE DIRECTORS

Welcome to the University of Idaho and to the Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival. We are pleased to present this year's festival to students, educators and community members as we continue to be grounded in tradition and breaking new ground. We feature days filled with cross-campus student performances and workshops given by premier artists and educators, all presented on our lovely campus centered in Moscow, Idaho. We then turn to our evenings in the ASUI Kibbie Dome, with world-class jazz artists alongside the top student performers of the day. This is a one of a kind, all-inclusive experience for musicians and music lovers of all ages.

We hope that you enjoy every minute of your time here. Take in all that you can – we hope that these two days will prove to be a transformative experience for all.

Please enjoy the festival!

JAZZ in the SCHOOLS

Jazz in the Schools, the festival's community outreach program, takes master musicians and educators to regional K-12 schools throughout the year. There is no cost to participating schools. The program provides teachers and students with jazz education materials, activities and an interactive presentation with educators and artists. Jazz in the Schools meets a very real need in the community, particularly in areas that don't have access to high quality arts programming. It helps to foster an appreciation of music and the arts, and of how music can be an important and even transformative part of our lives.

The Jazz in the Schools program reaches students in K-12 schools in Northern Idaho and Eastern Washington during the week of festival. Artists and music educators travel to the various schools to share and educate students in the art of jazz. Now in its 27th year, the program was designed to share the beauty and grace of this truly American art form. This vision continues to guide the program. Under the direction of Vanessa Sielert and Josh Skinner, this program continues to grow and improve its presentations to regional schools.

for viewing at the Moscow
Chamber of Commerce
Open Monday-Friday
8:00 a.m.-5:00 p.m.

The International Jazz Collections at the University of Idaho were established in 1992 with the donation of historical materials from jazz legend Lionel Hampton. The International Jazz Collections are a growing archival repository dedicated to the preservation, promotion and study of one of the world's great art forms.

As the primary jazz archive in the Pacific Northwest, the International Jazz Collections include the archival papers of vibraphonist Lionel Hampton, jazz critic Leonard Feather, trombonist Al Grey, vocalists Ella Fitzgerald and Joe Williams, trumpeters Dizzy Gillespie, Doc Cheatham, Conte and Pete Candoli, pianist Jane Jarvis, bassist Ray Brown, saxophonist Buddy Tate and scores by Gerry Mulligan.

Access to the International Jazz Collections can be found through the University of Idaho Library catalog and online at www.ijc.uidaho.edu. More information is available by calling Special Collections and Archives at 208-885-0845 or emailing libspec@uidaho.edu. The Special Collections and Archives Reading Room is open for research to the public and university community year-round.

MEET the ARTISTS

FRIDAY ARTISTS

Dawn Clement's Gratitude Trio

Dawn Clement is a recognized and sought-after pianist, vocalist and composer. Her unique sound has gained recognition around the U.S. (as well as internationally), from performers, critics and fans. She is now working at Metropolitan State University of Denver as the assistant professor and area coordinator of the Jazz and American Music department.

Paul McKee

Paul McKee is the associate professor of jazz trombone and arranging/composition at the University of Colorado in Boulder. He is a well-recognized performer and composer with many of his arrangements being played worldwide. Paul has been a part of many Grammy-nominated recordings and was a part of Woody Herman's Thundering Herd in 1984.

VILLAGE VANGUARD

Vanguard Jazz Orchestra

The Vanguard Jazz Orchestra is the current title for a band that began its life as Thad Jones/Mel Lewis and The Jazz Orchestra in 1966 and has performed continuously over 50 years.

In 1966 cornetist, composer, arranger, Thad Jones and drummer Mel Lewis founded a band in New York. Having settled in New York after leaving their respective touring jobs with Basie and Kenton, Thad and Mel along with many of their colleagues needed an outlet for their creative energies and relief from the tedium of the studio work.

With a handful of arrangements, they approached legendary club owner Max Gordon and were booked at the Village Vanguard for 3 Mondays in February. Critical acclaim, awards and international success followed but in 1979, tired of frequent traveling and the economic uncertainty that even great jazz musicians endure in America, Thad left the band to accept leadership of the Danish Radio Orchestra in Copenhagen.

Mel decided to continue the band, now billed as Mel Lewis and the Jazz Orchestra, and enlisted the talents of his old friend and former band member Bob Brookmeyer who miraculously was just returning to active playing and composing in New York. The band not only survived, but with Brookmeyer's writing continued the innovation and influence that Thad and Mel had begun. Bob moved on to other projects and ultimately also settled in Europe, the new material coming from within the band now.

In 1990 the band would endure a terrible blow when Mel Lewis died after a 5-year battle with cancer. For the members, all of whom had been there 5 years and several over 10, losing Mel was a deep family tragedy, for great bands invariably become families. The decision was made to move forward as a cooperative endeavor with the music as its front man.

So three weeks have become a permanent gig spanning over five decades and another name change: The Vanguard Jazz Orchestra. Several of the current key members played for Thad, so the original precepts of sound and swing are proudly held and displayed while the other original precepts of creativity and experimentation are nurtured and encouraged.

The Village Vanguard is still a great place to be on a Monday night no matter which side of the bandstand you're on.

Over the past decades The Vanguard Jazz Orchestra has received multiple Grammys and Grammy Nominations for every recording they made.

The New Lionel Hampton Big Band

featuring Joseph Doubleday, Vibes, with special guest Antonia Bennett, Vocals

All of the members of The New Lionel Hampton Big Band played with Lionel Hampton himself. The Lionel Hampton Estate, eager that people experience Hamp's music in 2015, authorized the launch of the New Lionel Hampton Big Band featuring Jason Marsalis, with Christian Fabian, Cleave Guyton, Jr. and Lance Bryant as co-leaders.

All the band leaders played with Lionel Hampton; Lance was the Lionel Hampton Orchestra musical director and principal arranger, Cleave was the last musical director of the band, and Christian remains the bass chair of the last Big Band led by Lionel Hampton.

In this incarnation of the Band, musicians trained at the start of their careers by Hamp himself, and Antonia, whose parents played with Hamp, brings Lionel Hampton's music into the next generation.

The Band has been playing sold-out shows with many encores from coast to coast. Their enthusiastic audiences transcend age and gender, ranging from 21-year-old exchange students to 94-year-old jazz aficionados.

THE LIONEL HAMPTON LEGACY

Now in its 50th year, the Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival keeps the magic, music and spirit of jazz alive for generations to come by inspiring students, teachers and artists of all ages and abilities to excel in their appreciation, understanding and performance of jazz.

Throughout its history, the Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival has been dedicated to enhancing musical opportunities and educational experiences for young artists. It strives to connect students to some of the best jazz musicians and educators in the world today through evaluated student performances, artist and educator workshops and clinics, the Jazz in the Schools program and world-class evening concerts.

As a National Medal of Arts recipient, the Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival is following in some very big footsteps—including those of Lionel Hampton, who was awarded the medal in 1996. The National Medal of Arts, the nation's most prestigious arts award, was presented to the festival in November 2007 by President George W. Bush. The University of Idaho became the first public university to receive the award since it was created by Congress in 1984.

The first University of Idaho Jazz Festival took place in 1967 with a dozen student groups and one guest artist. The festival continued to grow from there, erupting onto the national stage in 1981 when students and spectators packed in to hear Ella Fitzgerald.

In 1984, the festival's most important relationship took shape when Lionel Hampton joined the excitement in Moscow. Inspired by the enthusiasm of the students, Hamp pledged his support to the festival. This was the beginning of a longstanding partnership between Hampton, Emeritus Executive Director Lynn J. Skinner and the festival. In 1985, the festival took on Hampton's name and became the first jazz festival named for an African-American jazz musician.

Lionel Hampton was one of the most extraordinary musicians of the 20th century, and his artistic achievements symbolize the impact jazz music has had on our culture. Given his first drum lessons by a Dominican nun at the Holy Rosary Academy of Wisconsin, Hampton evolved into a well-respected and well-developed musician.

In 1930, Hampton was called to a recording session with Louie Armstrong, and during a break, Hampton walked over to a vibraphone and started to play. He ended up playing the vibes on a song during the session, and the song became a hit. Hampton had introduced a new voice to jazz, and he soon became the “King of the Vibes.”

Hampton went on to create more than 200 works including the jazz standards “Flying Home,” “Evil Gal Blues” and “Midnight Sun.” He also composed the major symphonic work, “King David Suite.”

Hampton began working with the University of Idaho in the early 1980s to establish his dream for the future of music education. In 1985, the university named its jazz festival after him, and in 1987, the university’s music school was named the Lionel Hampton School of Music.

Over the next 20 years, the University of Idaho developed an unprecedented relationship with Hampton to ensure his vision lived on through the Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival, the School of Music and the International Jazz Collections. Lionel Hampton passed away in 2002, but his legacy lives on.

In 2016, the Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival returned to the Lionel Hampton School of Music in the College of Letters, Arts and Social Sciences, where it initially got its start in 1967. Vern Sielert became the artistic advisor and Vanessa Sielert the education advisor in 2016, with Josh Skinner joining as festival manager in 2018.

LYNN “DOC” SKINNER

Dr. Lynn “Doc” Skinner has been part of the Jazz Festival since he arrived in Moscow as the director of music education at the University of Idaho. In 1972, Doc offered to help Music Professor and Festival Director Rich Werner. When the Jazz Festival needed a new director in 1976, he accepted the position and served as executive director until 2007.

During his tenure as executive director of the festival, he brought some of the greatest jazz artists to Moscow including Ella Fitzgerald, Dizzy Gillespie, Stan Getz, Gerry Mulligan, Toots Thielemans, Ray Brown and Sarah Vaughan – and Lionel Hampton to the festival in 1984.

Doc and Hamp’s friendship was a major and inspiring part of the festival, focusing on education and cultivating the next generation of jazz musicians. His efforts over the years culminated in 2008, when the University of Idaho Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival received the National Medal of Arts, the nation’s most prestigious arts award, from President George W. Bush. In 2010 Doc received the Governor’s Awards in the Arts for Support of Arts Education from Gov. C.L. “Butch” Otter.

Hamp & Doc
Lynn “Doc” Skinner
and the
Lionel Hampton
Jazz Festival
a memoir
by
Dr. Lynn J.
“Doc” Skinner
as told to Alan Jay Solan

If ever I met an angel, it's Doc Skinner.
Benny Green, jazz pianist

Doc's passion exuded like a beacon attracting the world's greatest jazz musicians and journalists to share their talent, experience, and support. His vision of ensuring the perpetuation of the art form by exposing young people to the music of the masters through performance and education was ingenious!
Dee Daniels, jazz vocalist

Hamp & Doc: “Doc” Skinner and the Lionel Hampton Jazz Festival

2019 LIONEL HAMPTON

The Lionel Hampton School of Music (LHSOM) is a close-knit community of prominent performers, teachers, composers and scholars who interact closely with dedicated and talented students. LHSOM delivers a well-rounded educational experience that is comprehensive and nationally competitive. For more information on the degrees offered, performing ensembles and educational opportunities, please visit us on the web at <http://music.uidaho.edu> or e-mail us at music@uidaho.edu.

JAZZ FACULTY

Vern Sielert, Director of Jazz Studies, Jazz Band I

Vern Sielert is professor of trumpet and jazz studies at the University of Idaho. He holds bachelor of music degrees in jazz studies and music education, and a master's degree in jazz studies from the University of North Texas, and a doctor of musical arts in trumpet performance from the University of Illinois. His compositions and arrangements for jazz orchestra are performed by high school, college and professional groups around the world, including the C.U.G. Big Band (Japan), U.S. Army Jazz Ambassadors, and the Count Basie Orchestra. His playing can be heard on recent recordings by the Unhinged Sextet, Palouse Jazz Project, Dan Gailey Jazz Orchestra, Greg Yasinitzky's YAZZ Band, Bob Curnow Big Band, and Phil Kelly's Northwest Prevailing Winds.

Vanessa Sielert, LHSOM Director

Vanessa Sielert is director of the Lionel Hampton School of Music at the University of Idaho. She has also served as associate professor of saxophone at the Lionel Hampton School of music, professor of saxophone on the faculties of Pacific Lutheran University, Seattle Pacific University and Southern Illinois University, Carbondale.

Sielert has performed with a wide range of performing groups including the Palouse Jazz Project, the Emerald City Jazz Orchestra, the Tacoma Symphony Orchestra, the Federal Way Symphony, Orchestra Seattle and the Civic Orchestra of Chicago. As a member of the Millennium Saxophone Quartet, she was a medal winner at the prestigious Fischhoff Chamber Music Competition.

Sielert earned a bachelor of music in music education and saxophone performance from the University of Idaho, a master of music in saxophone performance from Baylor University and a doctor of musical arts in saxophone performance from the University of Illinois.

Kate Skinner, Jazz Piano, Jazz Band II

Kate Skinner is a jazz instructor in the Lionel Hampton School of Music and is currently a doctoral candidate in jazz studies at the University of Northern Colorado, studying orchestral conducting as a secondary area. As a jazz pianist and vocalist, Skinner maintains an active performing, composing and teaching career in the western United States. A native of Ogden, Utah, Skinner pulls influences from the bluegrass and classical roots of her childhood into both her songwriting and performing as a jazz musician. In her teenage and college years, Kate delved into R&B, funk and hip hop, genres that also continually find their way into her musical explorations helping to create her own unique voice. Part of this unique voice is an obsession with alternative keyboard instruments and a study of the great keyboardists of jazz, rock and funk.

Patrick Jones, Saxophone

Patrick Jones has performed as a soloist, recitalist, and chamber musician around the world. He is an active performer, educator and clinician. Jones currently teaches saxophone at the University of Idaho. Other faculty appointments include Edinboro University, University of Iowa, Allegheny Summer Music Festival and International Youth Festival.

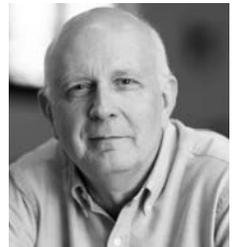

His most recent solo recording "La Souplesse", includes music for saxophone and piano with introductory notes by Richard Ingham. He has performed in bands featuring artists such as Marcus Printup, Joe Lovano, Dominick Farinacci, Pat Harbison, Lionel Hampton, Claudio Roditi as well as many others. As a soloist, he has been invited to perform with groups/artists such as the Palouse Jazz Project, Marshall Griffith (Cleveland Institute of Music) and TriBop.

Patrick Jones earned his doctorate of musical arts in saxophone at the University of Minnesota.

Daniel Bukvich, Percussion, Jazz Choirs

Daniel Bukvich has been a member of the faculty of the Lionel Hampton School of Music since 1978. His compositions and arrangements are performed world wide by symphonic bands, wind ensembles, orchestral winds, choirs, jazz bands, symphony orchestras and marching bands. He is a professor of music at the Lionel Hampton School of Music at the University of Idaho. He teaches percussion, freshman music theory and ear training, composition and jazz choirs. Dan Bukvich is a recipient of the 2012 U.S. Professor of the Year Award for the State of Idaho.

Dave Bjur, Jazz Bass

Dave Bjur is a professional bassist and teacher. His performing career began in 1977 when he joined the U.S. Air Force Band, playing a variety of styles while performing throughout the Western United States, Hawaii, Guam, Japan, South Korea and the Philippines. In 1993, he began a four-year role as bassist with the Clayton-Hamilton Jazz Orchestra. Studying with John Clayton since 1987, Bjur has also taken lessons with Ray Brown, John Heard and Paul Ellison. Bjur has been teaching jazz bass at the University of Idaho since 2006. He has taught double bass at Lewis-Clark State College in Lewiston, ID and Whitman College in Walla Walla, WA. He holds a Bachelor of Arts from the University of Washington.
