Graduate Writing Symposium
This series of workshops is designed to help graduate students across disciplines cultivate strong and effective voices in their academic writing. In the first workshop, we will focus on techniques for finding and shaping a compelling narrative in research. In the second workshop, we will practice ways to improve the clarity, precision, and readability of scholarly prose at the sentence and paragraph levels—while still finding ways to emphasize each writer’s individual voice.

Prestigious Fellowship Workshop Series
The Prestigious Fellowship Workshop series, led by Dean Jerry McMurtry, prepares students to submit federal fellowship applications in the upcoming funding cycle, 2023 - 2024. Students in the final stages of writing an application for the GRFP, Ford Foundation, National Defense, or F31- NIH fellowships are encouraged to attend these sessions. Attendees may bring in-progress application documents and any questions they have about the application process. Additionally, students will learn the differences between the major prestigious fellowships, how to determine which fellowship is the best fit, and how to effectively plan for the 2024 - 2025 application cycle. Any students in need of faculty reviewers for fellowship application components may contact Michael Decker (mdecker@uidaho.edu) for assistance.

November 10
December 1 & 15
CIRTL Network Workshop Series

The Center for the Integration of Research, Teaching and Learning (CIRTL) and the College of Graduate Studies present a series of workshops relevant to graduate students and postdocs seeking future faculty positions. These workshops will explore Teaching as Research (TAR) and Learning Through Diversity (LTD) pedagogical frameworks. Workshops will be led by Brian Smentkowski from the Center for Excellence in Teaching and Learning (CETL). This is a valuable opportunity for graduate students and postdocs to become involved in CIRTL levels, opportunities, and credentials. For more information about the benefits of becoming involved in the CIRTL network, contact Michael Decker at mdecker@uidaho.edu.

HOW TO: Fund Your Graduate Education
October 16
Join members of the College of Graduate Studies team along with other prospective students to learn the process of grad school funding. This session takes a close look at opportunities and resources for funding your graduate education. (ideally for prospective students)

HOW TO: Create a Study Plan and Check your Degree Audit
October 23
In this program, College of Graduate Studies staff will show students where they can access study plan resources, in addition to demonstrating some strategies for the study plan development process. Students will also learn how to interpret their Degree Audit and use this function as a tool to inform their study plan.

HOW TO: Apply for GPSA Travel and Publication Awards
October 30
Led by students from the Graduate and Professional Student Association (GPSA), this workshop will guide graduate students through the process of applying for Travel or Publication Awards through GPSA. Covered topics will include eligibility, deadlines, application requirements, and helpful tips to make the process go smoothly.

HOW TO: Format Your Thesis or Dissertation
November 6
This workshop helps graduate students understand how to start formatting a thesis or dissertation, provides helpful tips and guidelines, and describes all required components of a finished product. The workshop includes troubleshooting any problems students encounter during the formatting process.

HOW TO: Steps to Your Graduate Degree
November 27
The College of Graduate Studies presents this workshop to guide currently enrolled graduate students through every step of the master's and PhD processes, including dates, deadlines, planning documents, and explanations of COGS forms and procedures. Students should bring their questions!
Additional Graduate Student/Postdoc Support Opportunities

Job Application Support Meetings
Graduate students and postdocs who are in any stage of the job application process are encouraged to attend this monthly online support meeting, led by Career Services. Attendees can bring questions or current application materials and receive feedback and guidance.

September 12 & 26, October 10 & 24, November 7 & 28

Research Assistant Community Group
Graduate Research Assistants can find support, share resources, and build community at the RA Community Group, led by the College of Graduate Studies and graduate faculty members. This group is ideal for graduate students who wish to discuss their struggles and successes during the research process. Any graduate student or postdoc who is currently planning or conducting research is encouraged to join.

1-2 p.m. Thursdays | One World Café (533 S Main St.)
September 7 & 21, October 5 & 19, November 2, 16, & 30

International Student Community Group
The goal of this group is to create an informal space for international graduate students to support one another, make connections, and learn more about campus resources. Group meetings will be led by an international student facilitator and pizza will be provided. Monthly meeting dates will be finalized soon.

Time/Date to be Determined | IPO Conference Room

Writing Support from the Graduate Writing Tutor
The Writing Center employs a Graduate Writing Tutor, Isabel Marlens, who is available to help graduate students with every step of the writing process. Isabel can help you with setting goals, scheduling writing time, dealing with writer’s block, organizing your thoughts, as well as helping you to improve your individual assignments and writing projects. You can make an appointment using the Writing Center’s online calendar and selecting the schedule for Graduate Writing Support. For questions, email Isabel (imarlen@uidaho.edu) or drop by the Writing Center office in ISUB 323.
