A Word From Our Pro

We are very excited to announce we our new Trackman simulator is up and running just in time for the off season. The simulator package was the result of a cooperative effort from both the College of Business, supporting the PGA golf management Program, and Auxiliary Services enterprise activities to provide the most comprehensive indoor golf studio in the region. Patrons will be able to use this technology to play famous courses throughout the world or focus the power of Trackman to analyze and improve the dynamics of their golf swing. Spin rate, smash factor, ball speed and swing speed, club path and angle of approach are just a few of the stats you can pull in assessing and improving your golf swing. The off season is the best time to introduce, assimilate and reproduce swing changes and now we have the numbers to back up your improvements. So book a tee time, use the range, or sign up for a lesson package with our PGA affiliated staff.

Trackman simulator

Our new Buffalo Blower in action. This allows us to make quick work rounding up all the leaves that will be munched by the rough mower and give Travis' maintenance crew a clean slate to apply slow release winter fertilizers and fungicides.
