Department of Accounting and MIS college review

Quality of Program's Self-Study Report: Incomplete Report

Questionnaire has been completed: true

Recommendations:

As the department APR is incomplete, it is difficult to prepare recommendations based on the APR. However, the college makes the following recommendations to the department:

1) Complete the analysis in the APR. This would give the department valuable insight into its condition. The incomplete portions include:

   a) Student achievement reports. A partial report has been prepared for the MAcct, but the available assessment data has not been imported. Each emphasis/option in the MAcct needs its own report, as well as the undergraduate accounting and MIS degrees. As more assessment is conducted, the data should be entered into the Anthology Outcomes system.

   b) Demand and Productivity report: This is a report on enrollment and retention.

   c) Financial Health and Resources Report.

2) Develop an enrollment improvement plan. Both undergraduate degrees offered by the department have lower enrollments than national enrollment trends would suggest are possible and advisable.

New Strategic Recommendations and Discussion of Community Partnerships Item

List of 3-5 Strategic Recommendations:

1. Both departments should review teaching assignments and faculty development to optimize the student learning experience.
2. Both departments have quality experiential learning opportunities. The departments should review the opportunities to maximize investment in areas of greatest impact.
3. Both departments should look into ways of incentivizing quality teaching.

Partnerships:

1. The accounting and mis department is looking into developing a certificate to serve the tribes.
2. In the past the accounting department has provided education opportunities to the inmate population of the Idaho State Prison.
3. The business department provides economic impact studies the serve many communities within the state.
4. The accounting and mis department provides tax preparation services to needy individuals.
