

April 10, 2017: UI Welcomes International Navitas Visitors

During the week of April 17-21, the University of Idaho Division of Strategic Enrollment Management is hosting approximately 50 international recruiters who are employees of Navitas, UI's new international recruitment partner.

UI and Navitas partnered in January 2017 to increase our international footprint and expand the educational experiences of all our students. Navitas is a global higher education organization partnering with more than 30 universities over twenty years to increase access to higher education and prepare international students for future success. Navitas is promoting the UI around the world and recruiting the first cohort of students, who will begin their UI journey this fall.

As part of the partnership, Navitas employees from around the globe are visiting UI and Moscow this month to experience our campus, our community and all of the wonderful things UI has to offer international students. The group will tour our facilities, meet current UI students and college representatives, as well as exploring downtown Moscow and the Palouse.

Please welcome these guests to campus and show them what it means to be a member of the Vandal family.
