TEACHING ACCOMPLISHMENTS:

Courses Developed

The courses taught cross the wide range of the landscape design discipline; the intent is to guide the students along learning experiences that consider design as process.

This pedagogy envisions the designer as a site-sensitive artist/craftsman who, using creative imagination, and embracing the new possibilities of modern technologies, reinterprets the values and potential of the place in need to be transformed.

Workshops and Construction of Temporary Installations with Students

Workshop leader + Installations, “InterARTing. Temporary Site-Specific Art Installations to Connect People and Land” (investigators: Roberto Capecci and Raffaella Sini), financed by the University of Idaho Student Arts-Fee Grant, supports a collaboration between the PCEI Nature Center in Moscow, Idaho (Palouse-Clearwater Environmental Institute) and the UI Landscape Architecture Program. It has funded a workshop in the spring 2021, with over 30 projects submitted by the students, and the selection of 7 site-specific landscape installations realized by the students at the PCEI Nature Center in spring 2021. The exhibit opened on 9th May 2021.

Workshop leader + Installations, PARK(ing)Day (<http://parkingday.org/>). With students of the Landscape Architecture Program, CAA, University of Idaho, 2016–ongoing. One-day yearly event supported by the American Association of Landscape Architects (ASLA) consisting in the temporary conversion of parking spaces into ‘parklets’. It involves an average of 6-12 landscape architecture students in design studios and the Student Chapter of the American Society of Landscape Architects (SCASLA) conceptualizing and building temporary gardens, gathering spaces and installations at the university’s campus and downtown Moscow. Supported by the Moscow Arts Commission (City of Moscow, Idaho) and Parking and Transportation Services of the University of Idaho.

Workshop leader + Installations, “Memory ‘Landscapes’: Landscape, Interpretation and Representation”, supported by the College of Art and Architecture Paul G. Windley Faculty Excellence and Development Award was a workshop where thirty landscape architecture students conceptualized and constructed each a landscape model exploring the meaning of "memory", "everyday places" and "narrative" of the landscape. The collective of landscape dioramas was exhibited in 2019 at the Reflections Gallery of the University of Idaho, and in 2021 at the PCEI Nature Center in Moscow, ID. <https://www.facebook.com/media/set/?vanity=105084937608402&set=a.114278386689057>

Workshop + Installation, LANDscape IN THE BOX. Singapore Art Museum, Art Garden 2013. With Prof. Raffaella Sini and students of the Department of Architecture, National University of Singapore. For the event, students developed the community outreach blog <http://landscapeinthebox.blogspot.sg/> to collect stories and share their ideas with the community. Funded by Singapore National Heritage Board ($8,000)

Workshop leader + Installation, Fall. Singapore Art Museum. With Prof. Raffaella Sini and students of the Department of Architecture, National University of Singapore, 2012. Funded by Singapore National Heritage Board ($1,250)
