Borah Symposium to Address Relationship Between Sports, War and Peace

Looking deeper into the international landscape and the concept of sport, this spring's University of Idaho Borah Symposium will focus on Beyond the Battlefield: Sports, War and Peace. Events will take place April 1-3 on the Moscow campus and are free to the public. Read more.

Idaho Geological Survey and U-Idaho Explore for Geothermal Energy

In an effort to provide the most accurate assessment of high-temperature geothermal energy potential in the region, the Idaho Geological Survey recently drilled new wells in southeastern Idaho. Read more.

Turn Bad News Performance Reviews Into a Better Experience

Professional Development and Learning has registration open for several classes next week, including: Bad News Performance Reviews, Building Rapport and Developing with Anyone, Anywhere and Time-Saving Microsoft Excel Tips & Shortcuts For Every User. View the PDL training portal for more offerings and registration.

University of Idaho Boise Delays Opening For Weather Today

Storm and road conditions have delayed opening at the University of Idaho Boise Center today until 10 a.m. Please check the University of Idaho Boise website for further updates. Employees are encouraged to use prudence when considering their specific situations. If you deem it too dangerous to travel or feel it necessary to leave early, please contact your supervisor and take the appropriate action.

U-Idaho Professor Paul Joyce Tapped as Permanent Dean of the College of Science

The University of Idaho has appointed Paul Joyce as dean of the College of Science. Joyce, a professor of mathematics, statistics and bioinformatics, has served as interim dean since June 2012. "I am pleased Dr. Joyce has accepted this appointment as dean. Paul has long demonstrated leadership on our campus and will now have an opportunity to demonstrate his leadership skills for a very important college within the university," said M. Duane Nellis, president of the University of Idaho. Read more.

U-Idaho to Host Martin Luther King Jr. Day Celebration

The University of Idaho will celebrate Martin Luther King Jr. Day with an on-campus showing Tuesday, Jan. 22 at 12:30 p.m. of his iconic "I Have a Dream" speech, filmed in 1963. The screening will take place in the Teaching and Learning Center, attached to the Idaho Commons, in its Student Diversity Center, room 229. Read more.

University of Idaho to Honor Extraordinary Alumni Jan. 23 in Boise

University of Idaho Alumni Association will honor two individuals with its 2013 Silver and Gold Awards the evening of Jan. 23 in Boise. Recipients are Tim Woodward '71 and Brent Keeth '82, '96. Honorary Alumna Recognition will be awarded to employee Sandy Larsen for providing 17 years of faithful and distinguished service to the university, 13 of which have been in the Office of Alumni Relations. ### Common Read - Final Call for Nominations

Each year, the University of Idaho engages its students in the Common Read. We are opening nominations for the 2013-14 Common Read and invite you to submit a title you feel worthy by Jan. 18. The Common Read is a program designed to engage all our students, be they first-year or senior-year students, in a unified intellectual activity, which introduces and reiterates them to academic expectations, respectful discourse and community building. Read more.

Supervisory Excellence Program Registration Open

SEP registration opens Jan. 9. The spring 2013 Supervisory Excellence workshop series begins on Tuesday, Jan. 29, 2013. The program was designed by Professional Development and Learning to enhance supervisory excellence at the University of Idaho by: providing supervisors and administrators with tools and skills to hire and develop an effective team, manage optimal performance and maintain a positive work culture; increasing supervisor and administrator knowledge in critical areas of legal and ethical compliance; and refining supervisory skills and facilitate a communication network. ### Security Enhancements to U-Idaho Directory

Changes will be implemented this week in the University of Idaho online directory to better protect contact information of our students. First, student addresses and phone numbers will be excluded from the listings. Second, searching for student directory information will require you to enter your University of Idaho network credentials (NetID and Password). To access student information, go to directory.uidaho.edu and click on the "Student Listing (requires UI login)" link in the left-side menu. Once credentials have been entered, you will be able to search student listings along with faculty and staff. Access to faculty and staff listings will not be impacted by these changes and will not require the entry of your network credentials.

Regulations and Emergency Information to be Aware of "As the Semester Begins"

As the semester begins, it is important that faculty, staff and students review several essential regulations and be aware of emergency contact information. This information can be viewed at: www.uidaho.edu/facultysecretary/assemsterbegins.

Women Volunteers Needed for Research on Heart Disease Risk

Women aged 20-39 years and overweight (BMI = 25 kg/m<sup>2</sup>) may be eligible to participate in this study investigating sedentary behaviors and heart disease risk factors in young women. Participants will receive free information on their heart disease risk factors and a gift card from Tri-State. For more information contact exphys@uidaho.edu or 208.885.2007.

U-Idaho Librarian Selected as ALA Emerging Leader

For the third consecutive year, a University of Idaho librarian has received national recognition with acceptance into the American Library Association's prestigious Emerging Leaders program. Kathleen Monks, U-Idaho library reference and instruction librarian, has been selected as one of 55 participants in the class of 2013 Emerging Leaders. Kristin Henrich was selected in 2012 and Ben Hunter in 2011. Read more.

Security Enhancements to U-Idaho Directory

Changes will be implemented this week in the University of Idaho online directory to better protect contact information of our students. Once implemented, the directory will require you to enter your University of Idaho network credentials (NetID and Password) to access student information. Student addresses and phone numbers will also be excluded from the listings. To access student information, you will need to click on the "The Student Listing (requires U-Idaho login)" link in the left-side menu. Once credentials have been entered, you will be able to search student listings along with faculty and staff. Faculty and staff listings will not be impacted by these changes and will not require the entry of your network credentials.

Grant Deadline Approaching -- Faculty/Staff International Development Award (FIDA)

The deadline for the Faculty/Staff International Development Award (FIDA) is now Jan. 9, 2012. The FIDA is an award open to University of Idaho faculty and staff members providing financial assistance in the execution of a summer academic international experience. For more information, or to submit an application, please contact Colton Oliphant (colton@uidaho.edu | 208-885-7870) in the International Programs Office.
